COLONEL SAYS HE IS FEELING BULLY

Physicians Report Virtually No Change in Roosevelt's Condition.

IS NOT OUT OF DANGER YET

Blood Poisoning May Develop at Any Time, But Fears Are Lessened. Mrs. Roosevelt at Husband's Bedside All Day Long.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—After the last consultation of the night Colonel Roosevelt's physicians announced that their patient's condition was improving. Colonel Roosevelt breathed more easily tonight than at any previous time since John Schrank shot him in the breast at Milwaukee last Monday. This was accepted as a sign that the broken rib had begun to knit. He said he felt as well as could be expected.

Colonel Roosevelt signalized his imprvement by dipping into politics for the first time since Monday night, when he left the platform in the Milwaukee auditorium with the bullet in his side. Sitting up in his bed he dictated a statement agreeing with William J. Bryan that the campaign should go on regardless of the colonel's removal temporarily from the fight.

The last bulletin of the day, issued at 10:55 P. M., read:

Pulse, 82. Temperature, 98.8. Respiration, 20.

Colonel Roosevelt is resting quietly. He announces that he breathes perceptibly easier. He says he "feels as well as could be expected."

The physicians in attendance on the colonel took a more frankly optimistic view today than at any other time since the colonel was admitted to the hospital, although they emphasized the fact that he could not be considered to have passed the danger point.

Dr. John B. Murphy, who is in charge of the case, and his associates, are so well pleased with his condition that they delayed their evening consultation until well toward midnight.

"Colonel Roosevelt's condition may be described as normal under the circumstances," said Dr. John F. Golden, as he left the hospital for the night. "He is perfectly easy."

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Throughout a day of unbroken calm, Col. Roosevelt lay in his bed in Mercy Hospital with virtually no variation of his condition. It was a day of waiting, with the ever-present possibility of complications, but with lessened fears on the part of those who were watching over the wounded man. He seemed in his almost normal condition, but his physicians said he was by no means out of danger.

Col. Roosevelt's physicians were discussing tonight the length of time it would be necessary for the colonel to remain in the hospital. It was believed that it might be safe for him to leave for Oyster Bay Monday or Tuesday if all goes well, but not even a tentative decision was reached.

The clinical record for the day showed some variations in temperature, pulse and respiration, but only such changes, the physicians said, as were normal in the case of a person suffering from a bullet wound. The hourly record told of a slight fever in the morning, and a sub-normal temperature toward the end of the day. The pulse rose to 90 in the morning and again late in the afternoon, but early in the evening the count fell off.

After inspecting the record for the day, Dr. John F. Golden said that it tallied in every respect with conditions which were normal in Col. Roosevelt's case.

The period of possible development of blood poisoning still has another day to run, and although the physicians said a change might occur within an hour at any time during the next day they were more optimistic tonight as to the outcome than at any previous time.

Possibility of tetanus, always to be reckoned with in the case of bullet wounds, was still to be considered, and as the period in which this might develop, the physicians said, is six or seven days, Col. Roosevelt will not be regarded as entirely out of danger, even should the next day pass with no signs of blood poisoning. Dr. Scurry L. Terrell said the colonel could not leave the hospital safely until the expiration of this period and for that reason it was regarded as out of the question to consider the colonel's departure for Oyster Bay before early next week.

All day Mrs. Roosevelt was at his bedside, and although her husband jestingly complained he was the victim of machine rule, she said he must see no one except the members of his family. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth talked with their father from time to time, but even these family chats were limited to a few minutes on each occasion. Twice during the day, however, Mrs. Roosevelt made exceptions to her rule. Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, one of the most active workers for the Progressive party, called late in the afternoon and spent 10 minutes with Col. Roosevelt. She had hardly departed when two babies, twins, who were spending the

STATE RESTS IN BECKER CASE

Case for Defense Begins Today When John W. Hart Makes the Opening Address—Becker's Counsel Wins a Victory

New York, Oct. 17.—The State rested its case today in the trial of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, on the charge of instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

The case for the defense will begin tomorrow when John W. Hart, of Becker's counsel, will make his opening address. If Becker has his way, Hart said, he will go on the stand in his own behalf. Whether his counsel will attempt to dissuade him had not been determined tonight.

The defense has indicated it will endeavor to prove a clique of gamblers inspired the murder of Rosenthal, and Becker is the victim of a conspiracy.

Former District Attorney Jerome will be one of a dozen or more witnesses the defense plans to call. Mr. Jerome is expected by Becker's counsel to break down a portion of the testimony of Jack Rose, in connection with alleged telephone conversation with Becker, introduced by the State to show that Becker had guilty knowledge of the crime. Sam Paul, whose gambling place was frequently raided by Becker, and other members of the gambling fraternity, also are included among Becker's witnesses.

The accused police lieutenant expressed himself as confident of acquittal, after adjournment had been taken on the announcement by District Attorney Whitman that the people's case was complete.

Becker was in a happy mood, for his counsel had just won a victory. This was when Justice Goff granted a motion by Mr. McIntyre that there be excluded all testimony tending to show that Becker had amassed a fortune in graft, obtained from gamblers.

District Attorney Whitman had 13 bank tellers ready to swear that Becker had a number of bank accounts, but not one was allowed to testify. Justice Goff upheld Mr. McIntyre's argument that without proof that Rosenthal, the "squealer," knew that Becker's bank account represented the proceeds of graft, the evidence could not show that they constituted motive for the killing of Rosenthal.

"Extortion and bribery are not charged in this indictment," declared Becker's attorney. "The charge is solely that of murder."

To introduce proof the prosecution recalled to the stand Jack Rose, Becker's alleged collector of graft, but Justice Goff refused to permit him to be examined along that line.

Mrs. Lillian Rosenberg, wife of "Lefty Louie," one of the four gunmen charged with the actual slaying of Rosenthal, furnished one of the sensations of today's proceedings when she appeared as a State's witness. Although denying any knowledge of her husband's whereabouts on the night of the murder, Mrs. Rosenberg told of the visit Sam Schepps and Jack Rose made to her home to ask the aid of her husband in getting Jack Zelig, the gang leader, out of jail.

This testimony, corroborative of the stories of Schepps and Rose, was intended to strengthen one of the important links in the State's chain of evidence.

Mrs. Rosenberg was one of a dozen witnesses put on the stand by the State today to close up some of the loose ends of its case, which has taken seven days to complete. The only appearance of the four gunmen in the case, so far, has been when they were brought into court to be identified by witnesses. As the quartette are under indictment and will be tried apart from Becker, it is not expected they will be called to the stand in this trial.

SCHEMED TO "FIX" ELECTION

Thos. W. Lawson Tells Clapp Committee the "Sinister System" Formed Deep-Laid Plot to Elect a Satisfactory Candidate.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The "sinister system" formed a deep-laid plot to control the present Presidential election, Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, told the Senate campaign contributions committee today.

Mr. Lawson was careful to impress upon the committee that he knew only in a "general way" of the alleged colossal scheme to nominate and elect a candidate "satisfactory to the Wall Street interests." All of his testimony was of matters which he knew in the same "general way" and he became involved in a heated controversy with the committee in defining just what he meant by this phrase, with which he prefaced practically every statement he made. In the course of the dispute he earnestly informed the committee that the examination of J. P. Morgan and other witnesses had been a "joke."

The conspiracy of the Wall Street interests, of which Mr. Lawson knew in a general way included, he declared, the defeat of Colonel Roosevelt at the Republican National convention, the nomination of President Taft and the injection of Colonel Roosevelt in the campaign as a third party candidate, to "split the Republican party," all this without the knowledge or consent of Colonel Roosevelt. Then Mr. Lawson knew, in a general way, a mysterious fund of $1,000,000 had been used in Wall Street to deadlock the Democratic convention at Baltimore, prevent the nomination of any of the candidates before the convention and to name a dark horse, satisfactory to the "system," who was to be elected.

"I communicated this information to Mr. Bryan," said Mr. Lawson, "and as a result, Mr. Wilson was nominated and the scheme failed."

Frank A. Munsey, who preceded Mr. Lawson, argued at length with the committee against the publicity of campaign contributions; it was necessary that rich men contribute, and that such publicity as the present investigation had enforced had "frozen up the pocketbooks" of the wealthy. He outlined his own expenses in the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign fund, amounting to more than $118,000, and told the committee that compared to the amount he was reported to have contributed the real figures made him "look like a piker." He estimated the total expenditures of the Roosevelt pre-convention campaign at $574,000.

Before Mr. Lawson and Mr. Munsey took the stand, the committee heard James O. Murfine, of Detroit, who declared that the recent primaries in that city were "rotten"—the worst we ever had." He charged that money was used lavishly, and the delegates were "bought like sheep."

George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the Republican committee in 1904, was

WAR LIKELY TO BE SHORT AND SNAPPY

Approach of Winter and Financial Pressure Will Affect Balkans.

GREEK PEOPLE REJOICING

Conflict Is Expected to Develop Into Land Campaign Between Bulgaria and Turkey, Naval Between Turkey and Greece

London, Oct. 17.—While Turkey and the Balkan States are carrying out the last formalities called with the declaration of war, interest has been transferred to the prospects of the campaign. Two influences are expected to make the war a short and sharp one. The first is the approach of Winter; the second is financial pressure. None of the belligerent States is in a position to stand the strain of prolonged military operations.

Bulgaria was disappointed recently in trying to raise even a small loan in Paris, while Turkey had been endeavoring both in New York and Paris to borrow money, but up to the present without success. The financial resources of the other States concerned are very limited. Little is likely to be heard of the European conference until some decisive action has been fought, when doubtless the European concert will renew its efforts to bring about peace on broad lines.

The war is expected to develop into a long campaign between Bulgaria and Turkey and a naval struggle between Turkey and Greece. It is believed Turkey will concentrate her strength and attack the Bulgarians separately before the Servians can come to their aid.

Much will depend on whether Turkey gains command of the sea, which would facilitate transportation of her Asiatic troops to the theatre of war.

Little is known as to how far the allied Balkan States have concerted their strategic plans. The independent action of Montenegro seems to indicate that a settled course is being followed.

The Bulgarian cabinet is sitting tonight in continuous session but is having difficulty in communicating with Belgrade and Athens. News of actual fighting is indefinite and conflicting, the Turks claiming substantial victories over the Montenegrins.

The Greek people are rejoicing.

The Greek people are rejoicing over their first naval victory, two gunboats forcing Prevesa strait. This feat gives the Greeks command of the Gulf of Arta and secures a supply of stores to the army of Epirus.

Through the official declaration of war, Greece is deprived of the services of a Chinese cruiser she had arranged to purchase at New Castle, as she has been obliged to abandon the purchase for fear of diplomatic complications.

The four destroyers which Greece purchased at Liverpool shipped naval crews at Algiers and have started for Greece, convoying the steamer Macedonia, which has on board Greek reservists from New York. These sea wasps will prove serviceable if they succeed in reaching a Greek port without being intercepted by Turkish warships.

OUTLINES

Governor Wilson reluctantly continued his campaign in Delaware yesterday, but made no mention of the Progressive party, confining himself to State issues. He paid tribute to Col. Roosevelt, who lies in a Chicago hospital.

Colonel Roosevelt issued a statement yesterday asking that the campaign be not discontinued on account of his inability to take part in it.

The State yesterday rested its case in the trial of Police Lieut. Becker, and John W. Hart, of Becker's counsel, will make the opening address for the defense today.

Throughout a day of unbroken calm yesterday Col. Roosevelt lay in his bed at Mercy Hospital, Chicago, with virtually no change in his condition. His physicians said he was by no means out of danger yet, but were more optimistic in regard to possible complications.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, died in Washington last night after a lingering illness.

The Balkan war is likely to be a short and snappy one, owing to the approach of Winter and financial pressure which will be brought to bear on some of the States. The conflict is expected to develop into a land campaign between Turkey and Bulgaria and a naval one between Turkey and Greece.

Thomas W. Lawson yesterday told the Clapp committee investigating campaign contributions that the "sinister system" plotted to fix the Presidential election.

WILSON DEPLORES USE OF VIOLENCE

Governor Pays Beautiful Tribute to Roosevelt in His Addresses.

SPEAKS ON STATE ISSUES

Reluctantly Campaigning in Delaware, Democratic Nominee Omits Mention of the Progressive Party—Attacks Taft.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 17.—"My thought is constantly of that gallant gentleman lying in the hospital at Chicago." With this sentiment running through his speeches, Governor Wilson toured Delaware today, deploring the assault on Col. Roosevelt and deprecating the use of violence to interrupt the course of politics. The Democratic nominee devoted his argument mostly to State issues in Delaware. He omitted mention of the Progressive party and when he discussed National questions, he attacked the administration of President Taft, declaring there was prosperity enough for those at the top, but that it had not percolated through to the rank and file of the people."

The Governor made four speeches, appeared before cheering throngs in nearly a dozen towns and closed the day with a big street parade and meeting at Wilmington tonight.

Urging Delaware to join the procession of Progressive States," Governor Wilson declared in his speeches that it was "dangerous to block the progress of reform in America," and that the "stand pat dam", which is the only thing that holds back the popular forces, will presently break.

"I do not predict trouble in the United States," he said. "I rejoice to believe that America is singularly a self-possessed Nation. It is averse to making so much violent disorder. I believe that part of the sadness we now suffer from because of that atrocious assault upon Mr. Roosevelt, is a feeling that there is anybody in the United States who would dare interrupt the orderly course of politics, and the public affairs of this country, by the violence of his own hand. We deeply resent it. We resent the thought that there should be any citizen of the United States that should raise his hand against the peaceful, the orderly, the just, the open determination of public officers.

"I came out to fulfill the engagements of this week with a very great reluctance, because my thought is constantly of that gallant gentleman lying in a hospital in Chicago. Mr. Roosevelt did a vast deal to wake the country up to the problems that now have to be settled, and that he should have been stayed in his attempt to discuss the sentiments of those questions, by a hand of violence, is a thing which every American must deeply deplore and feel ashamed for.

"At the same time, there are these questions to be settled. There is the great life of the country to go on, and we cannot afford to have it go on without guidance. My indictment against the Republican adminstrations of the past is that under them we have gone no whither; we have drifted. We have been without pilots; we have been without charts, no man has laid down any intelligible course, and in these latter years, we have been absolutely paralyzed. A Democratic House, a Senate mixed of Democrats and Republicans and near-Republicans, men who had revolted against the policy of the Republican party and were coming very slowly around to the positions which their Democratic colleagues had long occupied, and even a President unwilling to see even a united House, when they could, upon rare occasions, unite, accomplish anything to change the existing order of things; a President who, though he had condemned one of the most conspicuous schedules of the present tariff, was not willing that the Congress should change it, but only willing that it would be changed under the advice of a board of his appointment; a singular situation, my fellow citizens; a situation where the President withholds his assent from the very kind of reform, the very specific reform which not in its details, but in its general purpose, he had himself endorsed, showing that what you asked to do, in being asked to vote for a Republican administration, is one or the other of two things.

"You are either asked to drift under no guidance at all, or you are asked to stand still absolutely.

"America cannot stand still whether she could afford to or not. Don't you catch the sound of the wind in the air? Don't you hear the murmurs of the great multitudes of men who say 'Prosperity?' who is enjoying prosperity? The blessing has not reached us.

"We do not find our wages going up, we find it almost impossible to pay our bills, and when our wages cannot keep up with the prices. Prosperity? Yes, you men who are reaping the harvest at the top, but not much of it percolates to us."

Heading an illuminated parade Governor Wilson was given a great reception in the streets here tonight. He addressed a big crowd at a theatre as well as an overflow meeting,

SENATOR HEYBURN PASSES

Prominent Figure in U. S. Senate Succumbs to Complication of Diseases—Noted for Bitterness Toward the South.

Washington, Oct. 17.—United States Senator Weldon Brinton Heyburn, of Idaho, died at his apartments here tonight, after a lingering illness. He was 60 years old and had been in the Senate nine years.

A complication of diseases involving the heart and kidneys caused the Senator's death. He had not been well since last March when he collapsed after delivering a speech in the Senate on the arbitration treaties, in spite of doctors' warnings that the effort might cost him his life. Several weeks ago, apparently gaining strength after a serious relapse, the Senator and Mrs. Heyburn made preparations for a trip West. Today the doctors thought he was slightly improved, but death came suddenly a few minutes before 8 o'clock tonight. No arrangements have been made for the funeral, but the body will be taken to the old home of Senator Heyburn in Birmingham, Pa., for burial. Senator Heyburn was born in Delaware, May 23rd, 1852, his parents being Quakers of English descent.

He was admitted to the bar in 1876. He married Miss Gheretein Yeatman, who survives him. They had no children.

In 1883 the Senator moved to Shoshone, Idaho, which had been his home ever since. January 13th, 1903, he was elected to the Senate and in January, 1909, was unanimously re-elected to serve until 1915.

One of the staunchest of the regular Republicans, a man of strong convictions, Senator Heyburn had for years been a conspicuous figure in the Senate. He was most widely known, perhaps, for his unyielding bitterness toward the South and frequent denunciations of Southern Civil War leaders. He called the placing of Lee's statue in the Capitol an insult to the Nation, and in discussing this and many other incidents engaged in acrimonious debates with Southern Senators.

During the past few years, since the development of serious division in the Republican ranks, Senator Heyburn had played a prominent part in the fight for party regularity. He always opposed Col. Roosevelt's conservation ideas. One of his first acts as a Senator to attract public notice, was his strong support of the pure food and drugs act when it was before Congress for passage.

J. H. SOUTHGATE ELECTED.

President of National Association of Fire Insurance Agents.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 17.—J. H. Southgate, of Durham, N. C., was elected president of the National Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents which closed here today. Resolutions were adopted authorizing the naming of a special committee to devise means for obtaining prompt payment of premiums, and opposing as unfair the practice of making banks and trust companies agents of insurance.

The next convention may be held in Minneapolis.

New York, Oct. 17.—Directors of the Amalgamated Copper Company today declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1-2 per cent., increasing the per annum basis from 4 to 6 per cent.

WOODROW WILSON DAY PROCLAIMED

Saturday, November 2nd, Will Bring to Close Local and National Campaigns.

CANVASS FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Fair Progress Yesterday With More Assurances and Pledges Than Actual Cash Contributions—Women May Help

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Members of the Democratic National Committee today proclaimed Saturday, November 2nd, as "Woodrow Wilson Day" instead of October 31st, as had been announced. It is planned to have Governor Wilson address a meeting in Madison Square Garden, New York, on that day, and to telegraph excerpts of his speech to be read at similar meetings held throughout the country.

Coincident with Woodrow Wilson Day in the United States, it is very likely that the Committee of One Hundred appointed to raise $10,000 in contributions to the National Democratic Campaign Fund, will arrange to bring to a successful close, its efforts in behalf of the people's nominee. The day will be most appropriately observed here and in that connection the Committee of One Hundred will without a doubt be able to announce that the $10,000 contribution from this city has been completed.

Again yesterday many of the teams at work on the canvass did not make returns and those which did return amounts to the Central Committee brought in assurances and pledges that are yet to be realized upon. Systematic, persistent and faithful work was enjoined upon team workers and much more satisfactory results are expected later in the week. The committees will be on their rounds again today and every citizen will feel it a privilege to do something toward this "Help Wilson and Wilmington Win Fund."

Recorder John J. Furlong yesterday set the pace for the entire city with a contribution of $100. This "old war horse" of Democracy was asked to name his own amount and he did it with a will and cheerfulness that immediately infused the committee which approached him with enough enthusiasm to lead all others in the contributions returned for the day. Dr. Morris M. Caldwell was the next approach during the day and all gave willingly and cheerfully. Those who did not feel that they could give a large amount, came forward with the most enthusiastic expressions of their good will and it was a real pleasure for the team workers to get out and see just how easy it was. No appeal was necessary in a majority of cases. The committees merely came, saw and conquered. The work of the canvassers has now been pretty well systematized and it remains only for the team workers to call upon their respective chairmen, secure canvassers' cards and get busy.

Yesterday a number of voluntary contributors gave enthusiasm to the workers. One man way down in Jacksonville, Fla., sent his check for $2 to The Star and asked that it be turned over to Mr. J. W. Simpson's team and this was done. The contribution of Mr. Abbott appears below. Mr. D. F. Barnes, of the Hilton Lumber Co., was another voluntary contributor. He sent $5 to The Star for the fund and wished that he could give more. The lot in Mercer Place found another bidder yesterday and the highest price is now $60. None of these lots has been sold for less than $100 and the donor, Mr. J. B. Mercer, will buy it back for more than is now offered. If you wish a really attractive investment, send in your bid today to General Chairman W. A. McGirt or Chairman J. W. Little, of Mr. Mercer's committee.

A number of "community clubs" are being made up for the Wilson fund that will be reported later. Yesterday the trainmen of the Tidewater Power Co., through Mr. H. E. Bonitz's team, made a substantial contribution which appears below. Other clubs are being made up in various factories, stores, offices and departments. These are expected to yield a very substantial sum. It has also been decided to ask the ladies to help in this great work of raising subscriptions and the General Chairman or Mr. Hugh MacRae, secretary of the State Finance Committee, would be glad to hear any suggestions from any ladies who may desire to enlist in the cause. The Women of the Confederacy are honored in song and story for what they did in the great conflict between the States and the fight in which the People are now engaged with the Interests is almost as important. They can and will do their part right here in this campaign in Wilmington. It

GEORGETOWN 48; A. & M. O.

Hill Toppers Completely Outclass Farmers in Annual Football Game and Score at Will—Costello's Work Brilliant.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 17.—A. & M. was completely outclassed by Georgetown today and lost by the overwhelming score of 48 to 0. Georgetown made two touchdowns in the second quarter and five in the fourth. The only chance A. & M. had to score was in the third quarter, when they succeeded in three beautiful forward passes and two end runs, which carried them almost the whole length of the field, but Hergarty intercepted a fourth attempt at a forward pass and Georgetown carried the ball back out of danger. The first down was made early in the second quarter, when Georgetown had the ball a little over 15 yards from A. & M.'s goal. A. & M. was penalized 15 yards and Georgetown carried the ball over on the next play. Costello kicked goal.

The second touchdown came in the last of the same quarter, when Costello got away with a beautiful end run for 35 yards, making a touchdown. He kicked another goal.

The third quarter was the only time during the game in which A. & M. outplayed the Hill Toppers, when they came near scoring.

In the last quarter, Georgetown simply ran away with the Red and White, making five touchdowns and kicking four goals. The quarters started with Georgetown in possession of the ball on A. & M.'s 5-yard line, and they carried the ball over on the first down.

The next score came when A. & M. held the Hill Toppers for downs on the Red and White 5-yard line, but fumbled the ball on the next play, and Georgetown fell on the ball behind the line.

The next three touchdowns were made mostly on beautiful end runs, and broken field running by Georgetown.

Costello made one sensational run of 75 yards for a touchdown, and later Fury made another run of 50 yards.

A. & M.'s new team was decidedly in evidence and they could not stop the more experienced Georgetown team.

The stars of the game were Costello, Fury and White for Georgetown; McHenry, Phillips and Cool for A. & M.

IN JOHNSON'S POWER.

Mother Makes Plea for White Girl Under Champion's Influence.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist, appeared before Chief of Polise McWeeney today to explain his relations with Miss Lucile Cameron, the 19-year-old white girl, daughter of Mrs. F. Cameron-Falconet, of Minneapolis, for whom the police had been asked to search by the mother.

In a dramatic appeal Mrs. Cameron-Falconet told of her failure to get her daughter from the influences of the negro. She described her anguish when she learned last Friday that her daughter was a frequenter of Johnson's cafe and how she made a hurried trip here to rescue the girl, her interviews with the pugilist, who, she declares, insulted her and flouted her plea that he give up the girl.

Johnson, she said, told her "he could get any woman he wanted."

"When I found Lucile I pleaded with her to come back and I would go any place with her and shield her from criticism if she came home. She refused to come, being apparently under Johnson's influence.

"Then I telephoned the pugilist. He said he would send an automobile for me.

"When his automobile arrived he was in it himself, although he said it would be empty. When I entered the machine I drew down the shades so as not to be seen. This nettled him.

"'Oh, some of the best white women in Chicago ride in this car,' is what he said to me.

"I begged Johnson to give my daughter up. He said he wouldn't and leered in my face.

"We rode to a home on Sheridan Road, where Lucile was staying. She wept and told me she had gone too far to go back.

"I left her undecided. Finally she came to my hotel. We talked of how she could become disentangled. I was convinced at that time that the negro had a hypnotic influence over her.

"She went down stairs to use the telephone," she said, "and never returned. Johnson told me he would give every dollar he has to hold her."

Johnson made an absolute denial of unduly friendly relations with Miss Cameron and that infatuation for the Cameron girl was one of the causes of the suicide recently of his white wife. He declared the girl left her position as cashier in his cafe for another position and that his wife had never seen Miss Cameron.

Miss Cameron was taken into custody by the police tonight after she had refused to leave her companions in Chicago, and accompany her mother to Minneapolis. She was questioned by Police Capt. Nootbear and later taken to the South Clark street police station for the night. She was arrested on complaint of her mother, but was not booked.

Miss Cameron told Police Captain Nootbaer that she loved Johnson and that while the negro had not as yet made her a proposal of marriage she expected soon to become his wife. At this announcement the mother of the girl became hysterical.

Later Johnson, accompanied by an attorney, visited the police station and attempted to talk with the girl, but was denied permission to see her.

WILL ATTACK TAMPICO.

Diaz's Gunboats Will Try to Take That Port.

Monterey, Mex., Oct. 17.—According to reports from a reliable source, the Mexican gunboats Bravo and Moreles, seized by Gen. Felix Diaz at Vera Cruz, sailed today for Tampico with the avowed intention of taking that port. Tampico has a large American colony. Gen. Trevino, commander of this military zone, has expressed confidence as to the loyalty of the Federal troops at Tampico. Stubborn resistance is anticipated in the event of an attack by the Diaz forces.

recalled. He gave the committee his recollection of the so-called Standard Oil contribution of $100,000, which John D. Archbold testified he gave to the Roosevelt fund that year.

Mr. Cortelyou said that after the election Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the committee, had said something to him about an individual contribution from H. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil Company, which he said may have been the Archbold money.

The committee went after Mr. Lawson's conspiracy story rather sharply and endeavored in vain to pin him down to a statement of his basis for the recital. He said he had private means of information, many of them confidential, and finally informed the committee that when a bit of information became known to him, he took particular pains to arrange matters so he might not know the exact source of the information. This rather took the committee off its feet, and the Senators questioned in vain in an effort to get specific information from the witness.

He said in an effort to defeat the "system's" plans he had financed a $100,000 independent advertising campaign in behalf of Col. Roosevelt, in the hope that he could be nominated on the Republican ticket and elected.

Senator Pomerene and the witness became involved in a heated argument when the Senator demanded Lawson's authority for his statement regarding the $1,000,000 raised to control the Baltimore convention.

Mr. Lawson said he believed that inquiry was not within the committee's jurisdiction.

"Do you understand the scope of this committee's power and authority?" demaided Senator Pomerene.

The witness half rose and pounded his clenched fists on the arm of his chair. He glared at the four men behind the long committee table and leaning toward them shouted: "I don't think I could misunderstand the scope of this committee's work so far. I've read the record. I understand what J. Pierpont Morgan and the other men of his class have been compelled to answer. I don't believe this committee should seize upon me just because I am on the side of the people against these men.

"Oh, yes, I understand these things. With all deference to the committee, the testimony of all these men before this committee has been regarded as a joke."

Mr. Lawson testified that he knew "in the same general way" of contributions amounting to from $500,000 to $700,000 to the fund of Alton B. Parker in 1904, made by the Standard Oil group. He said, after a lengthy explanation, his information on this point came partly from conversations with the late H. H. Rogers, of the Standard Oil Company.

"This investigation," said Mr. Lawson, "seems to be a matter of passing the buck up to dead men. I don't like to do it, but I guess I'll have to."

In defining his "general way" of knowing things, Mr. Lawson said "I am in the public statement business. All I know is in a general way. I sometimes say I know, in a public statement, when I think I know. When I say I think, I usually guess."

As the last witness of the day the committee heard John C. McCall, secretary of the New York Life Insurance Company, who placed in the record the widely published story of the $48,700 contribution by the New York Life to the Republican fund in 1904 in connection with which George W. Perkins was indicted in New York.

"KEEP GUN SHOPS BUSY."

Ettor Advised Textile Strikers, According to Witness.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 17.—Testimony that Joseph J. Ettor, leader of the Lawrence Textile strike, had advised the strikers to "keep the gun shops busy", and had urged them not to fear the police or the tin soldiers with their "sharp bayonets", was given today in the trial of Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti, and Joseph Caruso, charged with the killing of Anna Lopizzo during the strike.

Two Lawrence police officers testified that Giovannitti had expressed to them defiance of the police and soldiers, and James P. Donahue, a Boston newspaperman recounted speeches alleged to have been made by Ettor at Lawrence which the commonwealth is endeavoring to show were of an inflammatory character and led to rioting, resulting in the death of the Lopizzo woman.

Donahue, who was at Lawrence throughout the strike, testified that in addressing one meeting after a young woman had described unusual conditions in the textile mills, Ettor replied, "that reminds me of the French revolution. The workers went to the masters and asked for bread. The masters told them to go and eat cake. Again they went to the masters and they told them to go and eat grass, and a short time afterwards, the lamp posts of Paris were hung with the heads of the masters, and in their mouths were wisps of grass."

On another occasion, Donahue said, Ettor told the strikers, "some one is going to be shot before this is over and see to it that it is not you."

Attorney John P. S. Mahoney, counsel for Ettor, on cross examination, sought to establish that Donahue was biased against the strikers, but this he denied.

Chick Mattick's Triple With Bases Full Wins the Game.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—"Chick" Mattick, of the Chicago American League team, today kept his club in the running for the city championship by driving out a triple with the bases full in the ninth inning. When he scored a moment later on an out, he brought defeat to the National Leaguers by a score of 8 to 5.

The spectacular finish was in keeping with the rest of the game. Zimmerman's hitting was responsible for the Cubs' tallies.

HORACE FOGEL MUST EXPLAIN

President of Philadelphia Club Will Be Given Chance to Substantiate Charges That League Race Was "Fixed"

New York, Oct. 17.—Formal charges against Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia National League club, based on his alleged assertions that umpires had favored the New York club and that this year's race had been fixed for that club to win, were ordered withdrawn, at a special meeting here today of the National League of Baseball Clubs.

Mr. Fogel will be given an opportunity to substantiate statements published over his signature, accusing certain umpires of unfairness. The charges also will include statements which President Fogel is alleged to have made at the Philadelphia baseball park, at the last series played there with the New York team. An accusation alleged to have been made was that the manager of the St. Louis club weakened his team by playing substitutes so the New Yorks could win, and charges made against William Brennan, an umpire whose fairness was said to have been impugned by Mr. Fogel.

"If he can prove that the National League race was crooked this year, and that the umpires or the president of the league were parties to it," said President Lynch, in a statement to the meeting, "then the umpires should be discharged and blacklisted from ever taking part in organized baseball, and the president of the league should step down and out of his position in disgrace. On the other hand, if these charges cannot be proved, then it is up to the National League to pass legislation preventing this man from representing any league club in any capacity.

"I respectfully place this before you gentlemen, and ask your wish as to procedure in this case."

John Heydler, secretary of the league, was directed to present the charges to President Fogel, within five days and Mr. Fogel was given five days additional to draw up his answer. The league will meet here Tuesday, November 26th, to hear Mr. Fogel's defense, and take action in the matter.

Thomas J. Lynch, president of the league, presided at today's meeting.

After some discussion as to the procedure to be followed, it was decided that the charges against Mr. Fogel be formulated, and he be given a hearing on November 26th. Umpires William F. Brennan, Charles F. Rigler, William Klem and Al. Orth were all in attendance at today's meeting, but were not called upon to testify.

LEAGUE BASKETBALL BEGINS

Games to Be Played Tonight at the Boys' Brigade Armory

The first game of basketball in the Class A League of the Boys' Brigade, will be played tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock when the Y. M. C. A. Seniors and Company B teams will meet in their first game. The Y. M. C. A. Juniors will play Company A and the Cardinals, Captain Irving, and the Eagles, Captain R. Burnett, will grapple in their first struggle for the Honnet trophy, which carries with it the championship of the city. By a careful inspection of the line-up of the various teams in this league it will be seen that the class of ball to be played this season will be far superior to anything of the kind ever put up in the city, as practically all the best local players are on these teams.

The Y. M. C. A. Senior team will be composed of Messrs. Harry Solomon, O. Fillyaw, B. H. Houston, Jr., Fred Little, Roy Starrett and H. Woolcott. The Y. M. C. A. Junior team is composed of Messrs. J. Farrar, C. Shephard, N. Davis, K. Davis, O. Johnson and L. LeGwin. Company A team presents Ferd. Duls, L. Hanson, F. Fick, H. Gerdes and H. Kure. Company B team consists of Geo. Bornemann, H. Register, E. Register, S. Branch and R. Sholar. The Cardinals' line-up is E. J. Irving, J. U. King, C. C. Davis, C. W. Davis and H. Huhn, while the Eagles is composed of R. S. Burnett, A. Elmer, R. Snakenburg, C. Burnett and J. E. Gerdes.

There are now 14 teams playing basketball at the Boys' Brigade, composed of 70 different players and with substitutes this number will run up to 80, the largest number ever registered for this sport in the institution. The games will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and will continue without intermission except to change teams until all three games have been played. The public generally is invited to attend free of charge. Ladies will receive the most courteous treatment and are especially welcome. The games will be refereed by Mr. Chas. Dushan. The scorers and timekeepers will be selected just prior to the games. The season will be divided into two parts, there being ten games in the first series which will end on December 27th. There will be but one intermission of more than one week and that will be on the night of November 29th, which will be the occasion of the second number of the Lyceum Course. With this exception there will be games on every Friday night until after Christmas. These games will be resumed soon after the holidays and the final series will then be played.

RED SOX LAUDED.

New World's Champions Make Triumphal March—Plans for Future

Boston, Mass., October 17.—A triumphal march through crowded streets and a mass meeting in Fanueil Hall closed for the season today activities of the Red Sox, the new world's champions, as a baseball team.

After they had been lauded as the "gamest nine ever," by Mayor Fitzgerald, and the sentiment had been applauded by several thousand fans, the players dispersed, not to meet again as an organization until next year.

Hunting trips are included in the immediate plans of nearly all the members of the team.

"Bill" Carrigan will entertain a small party at his Maine hunting camp. Within a few days the players will receive checks for their individual share of the world's series receipts. They will get more than $4,000 each, a greater sum than the salary of many of them.

WAR LIKELY TO BE SHORT AND SNAPPY

tonight by the Servian government. The declaration was transmitted to the Servian minister at Constantinople this afternoon with instructions to present it to the Porte tomorrow.

The great powers also will receive notification tomorrow of Servia's declaration. Immense crowds paraded the streets, singing and cheering, after the announcement of Servia's determination to fight.

Severe Fighting in Progress.

Constantinople, Oct. 17.—The council of ministers were still engaged tonight in debating on the attitude of Turkey toward Greece. The Turkish troops on the Bulgarian and Servian frontiers received orders last night to take the offensive and, according to official information, large numbers of Pomaks, fanatical tribes of Musselmen, who in past times have massacred Christian Bulgarians wholesale, crossed the frontier at Kirdchali, about 40 miles to the west of Mustapha Pacha, penetrating several miles into Bulgarian territory, the Bulgarians retiring.

All reports received here indicate that severe fighting is proceeding at various points, including the district north of Cusinje.

The decision of the government to declare war is welcomed with enthusiasm by the Turkish people, as the action of a strong and confident cabinet. The Bulgarian and Servian ministers probably will leave here tomorrow, as also will the Greek minister.

Greece Declares War.

Athens, Oct. 18. — 2:30 A. M. — Greece, not wishing to detach herself from her allies, sent instructions early this morning to the minister at Constantinople to communicate a declaration of war to the Porte. Greece at the same time sent a fraternal greeting to the allied States. Servia was the first of the three States to declare war last night. Bulgaria followed with a similar declaration.

AUGUSTA STRIKE ENDS.

Employes of Street Railway Company Accept Concessions.

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 17.—The street railway strike, which has tied up traffic in the city for more than a month and resulted in the death of three citizens, was ended tonight when the striking employes accepted the concessions granted by the company. It was announced that all strike-breakers would be dismissed tomorrow night.

As a result of the agreement, Col. O'Leary, in command of the military forces late tonight, released all troops under orders except one company at the power house. Martial law is expected to be lifted tomorrow.

The company granted the men a wage increase of 12 1-2 per cent. and shorter hours, effective November 1st, and agreed to arbitrate the cases of 20 men whom it accused of violence since the strike began.

Fry Chicken in Cottolene

The best fried chicken you ever ate can be made with Cottolene.

Cottolene can be heated to a much higher temperature than either butter or lard, without burning. It fries so quickly that little of the fat is absorbed, preventing the food being greasy. For this reason, Cottolene-fried food is more healthful than food fried in butter or lard.

Cottolene is more economical than lard—goes one-third farther; costs very much less than butter.

ON GRAND CIRCUIT.

Some Exciting Heats Are Pulled Off at Lexington Meet.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 17.—The championship stallion stake, pacing division for foals of 1909, and the Kentucky stake for three-year-old trotters, were the principal races on the programme of the Grand Circuit meeting here today.

The stallion stake was a two-horse race between Ward Dillon and Director Jay. The former won the first heat, but Director Jay came strong in the second and third heats.

The Kentucky stake was taken in straight heats by Princess Todd. The result was never in doubt in either heat.

It was announced that the management, in recognition of the unusual patronage at this meeting, would throw open the gates to the public tomorrow without charge for admission.

SYNOD AGAIN AT GOLDSBORO

Returns From Richmond and Convenes in Business Session—Reports of Various Committees Submitted—Missions.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 17.—The Synod of North Carolina returned to Goldsboro this afternoon, and convened in business session at 3:30 o'clock.

After the enrollment of additional delegates, the committee on arrangements submitted its report relative to the special orders to be observed during the remaining sessions of Synod.

Announcement was made that a collection for the orphanage amounting to more than $50 had been taken on the train and Synod instructed that this amount be used as the Board of Regents and superintendent of the orphanage may direct.

The Committee on Schools and Colleges submitted an encouraging report, showing an increase in the number of students in both the Synodical and Presbyterian schools. The amount of money contributed to schools and colleges the past year did not show an increase and explanation was made that this was due to the special efforts that have been made during this time in the interest of the endowment of Davidson College and Union Theological Seminary.

The next special order to be considered by Synod was the report of the Board of Regents of the Orphans' Home. Rev. H. J. Hill, chairman of the board, submitted this report. There are at this time 185 children in the home. During the past year 10 completed the course of study and 22 united with the church. The health conditions at the home are good and the work of the school and the church is encouraging.

During the year a number of payments have been made on the $50,000 pledge for equipment of the home which Synod pledged one year ago. It was recommended that $20,000 be applied to the home for expenses the coming year.

The report of the Committee on Women's Societies submitted by Rev C. G. Vardell, was the occasion of a good deal of discussion, but it was finally adopted. In accordance with the action of the Woman's Conference held at Montreal last Summer, the Woman's Societies will be known hereafter as Presbyterians and Synodical, instead of Unions, as formerly. The number of Presbyterians is 315, with a membership of 8,186. During the past year the amount contributed by the Presbyterians is as follows: Foreign missions, $14,109; home missions, $6,432; local causes, $11,582; other causes, $4,-156; total, $36,222.

Rev. J. R. Bridges, editor, addressed Synod in the interest of the Presbyterian Standard, and urged that it be more largely supported. Rev. W. E. McIlwaine, Rev. A. J. McKelway, a former editor of the Standard, and other members of Synod commended the paper highly. The present number of subscribers is 6,000 and special effort is being made to increase the number to 10,000 as soon as possible.

A popular meeting in the interest of foreign missions was held this evening, and Rev. R. L. Wharton, missionary to Cuba, delivered the address.

It was a fitting climax to the centennial celebration of Union Theological Seminary and a deserved honor to Dr. Moore, the president of the seminary, that at this time the Walter W. Moore foundation at the seminary, amounting to $45,000, was completed. George W. Watts contributed at this time $15,000, which completed the foundation. Among the visitors to Synod tomorrow will be J. P. McCallie, of Chattanooga, chairman of the "Million and a Half Campaign," and he will speak in that interest.

The principal topic of conversation among the members of the Synod of North Carolina today has been the pleasure of the trip to Richmond and the unbounded courtesy and hospitality extended to them during their stay in the capital city of Virginia.

Every member of the crew of the special train was presented with a copy of the Bible upon arrival in Goldsboro.

The report of the committee on Foreign Missions, submitted this evening, showed that Synod this year has contributed $82,886 to the Foreign Missions with a membership less than 50 thousand and an increase of $10,446 over last year. The per capita contribution this year was $7.78, against $1.57 last year.

Wilmington Presbytery gave $4.97 per capita, leading all the Presbyteries in this respect.

Fifteen churches in Synod gave more than four dollars per member, and constituted the honor roll, the Presbyterian church in Asheboro leading with a per capita contribution of $38.69 and the First Church, Wilmington, with a contribution of $21.39 per member, coming second.

The report recommended that each missionary receive a salary of one thousand dollars and that Synod observe as "Foreign Mission Day," a part of one day during each session of Synod.

Greensboro, Raleigh, Hickory and Fayetteville were nominated as the place for holding the session of Synod next year, and Greensboro was selected, and October 6th, 1913, fixed as the date of meeting.

WILSON BETTING ODDS 3 TO 1.

Even Money on Race Between Taft and Roosevelt.

(Special to Baltimore Sun.)

New York, Oct. 17.—Readjustment of Presidential election betting odds was indicated in Wall Street today, in consequence of the attempted assassination of Theodore Roosevelt and the possible sentimental effect that this might have on voters of the country.

No wagers of any importance were recorded, so that odds of 4 to 1 still stood nominally. It was said, however, that those who had been responsible for the establishment of those odds at the opening of last week were not offering so freely to take the long end of wagers. Odds named generally were at 3 to 1 against Roosevelt in favor of Woodrow Wilson.

As between Roosevelt and Taft for second place in the popular vote, the betting was recorded at even money. If anything, sentiment favored Roosevelt to a slight extent. Until a short time ago Taft was the favorite in betting on second place.

DEBS AT GREENSBORO.

M. P. Orphanage Corner-Stone—Physicians Are Blamed—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence)

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 17.—Eugene V. Debs, thrice Socialist candidate for President, made the only speech of the present campaign in North Carolina here last night to an audience that comfortably filled the Grand Opera House and which was variously estimated at between 500 and 800 people. His speech was dispassionate but earnest; his audience was attentive, but only among his own followers demonstrative. Mr. Debs exhibited at times bursts of eloquence that were rewarded by applause from the audience generally and irrespective of party affiliation. It is probable that the speaking was of no effect politically since it is doubtful if one person in the audience was added to the cause of Socialism. It is evident, though, that those within the ranks had their ardor increased many fold. Mr. Debs' speech was not bitter against any man. He did condemn all the opponent parties as boss-ridden, including the Progressives. He argued for government ownership of the utilities and for more justice for the workingman. During the course of his address Mr. Debs took occasion to refer to the attempt to assassinate former President Roosevelt; extended his sympathy to the colonel and his family and bitterly condemned the act of the would-be assassin as an act of a madman. Many members of the Socialist party came to Greensboro last night from Spencer, Winston and other points to hear their candidate's address. Mr. Debs was introduced by Mr. W. B. Taylor, a tobacco manufacturer, of Winston-Salem. The Socialist candidate spoke for at least an hour and a half, his speech being delivered in a clear, calm and deliberate tone.

The Jews of Greensboro tonight commemorate in elaborate manner the founding in this district of the Jewish Order B'Nai B'Rith, the exercises occurring in the Temple Emanuel at 8 o'clock. Two prominent speakers, Julius I. Peyser, an attorney of Washington, D. C., and Rev. Dr. Abram Simon, rabbi of the Washington Hebrew congregation.

Interesting and impressive exercises were held at High Point today when the cornerstone for the orphanage of the Methodist Protestant church was laid in the presence of many friends of the church and of the noble work begun. Prof. M. H. Holt was master of ceremonies, while the introductory remarks were made by T. A. Hunter. Welcome addresses were made by Mayor Tate on behalf of High Point; on behalf of the business men of High Point by J. J. Farriss and five minute talks by Rev. W. E. Swain, Mrs. Hammer and Mrs. Dixon, J. M. Millikan and others. The occasion, aside from the formality of laying the cornerstone was in the nature of a picnic and jollification, the formal ceremonies occurring immediately following the serving of dinner. The Home, or Orphanage, on which construction work has already begun, is located on what is known as the old Welch farm, near High Point, the site and grounds including about 60 acres of valuable land, especially adapted to the purposes of the orphanage.

The neglect on the part of some of the physicians of Greensboro in reporting contagious diseases was formally called to the attention of the Board of City Commissioners yesterday afternoon, a particular instance being a case of diphtheria that was not reported and which thus let down the bars for a possible spread of the disease in the city. The regulating of contagious diseases and reporting of all cases will be rigorously required in future in order that any epidemic of measles such as occurred in the schools last year, may be avoided.

FORMAL OPENING.

New $25,000 Dormitory at Greensboro Female College Ready.

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 17.—Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of Greensboro College, when she threw wide her portals to welcome mid her historic halls the trustees, alumnae and friends of the college, when in the form of a "house warming" and reception the formal opening of Fitzgerald Hall occurred.

Very beautiful and attractive looked the grounds and main building at the college, where all through the evening throngs of friends called to congratulate the president, Mrs. Lucy H. Robertson, the trustees and alumnae on this valuable addition to their equipment. Assisting the president and faculty in receiving and greeting the guests in the attractively decorated hall were Rev. and Mrs. E. L. McLarty, the former chaplain of the college. Here all through the evening exquisite music was rendered by the students. The history room, which deft fingers had transformed into a most alluring coffee room, was quite popular during the receiving hours, for here delicious sandwiches and fragrant coffee were served by the regular and special Seniors. A committee from the student body directed the guests to Fitzgerald Hall, where they were cordially greeted by representatives from the trustees, alumnae and members of the faculty. Especially glad were the visitors to have the pleasure of meeting Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, of Linwood, the grand old gentleman, who, by his generous donation of $10,000, has perpetuated his name in a monument more lasting than one of marble. A monument for the development of noble women, who in the years to come will rise up and call his blessed. With well merited pride a committee of attractive young ladies and friends showed the visitors through this beautiful, modern, well equipped building. So thoroughly fitted up and homelike, that home sickness is forgotten in the homelike atmosphere that envelops the building.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

N. C. Agricultural Society Receives Gratifying Reports—Mills Pres.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 17.—The North Carolina Agricultural Society under whose auspices the North Carolina State Fair is annually held, received tonight preliminary reports of a most gratifying character as to the complete success that is attending the present fair.

The fact that there were 30,000 people in the fair grounds today, with Tuesday as a high mark attendance day, and another big day assured for Friday, gave the society especial pleasure. President E. F. McRae, of Robeson county, declining to serve a third term, the society elected Jno. A. Mills, of Raleigh, as president of the society and re-elected Col. Joseph E. Pogue secretary and S. L. Rotter as treasurer. There was spirited discussion of the question of charging 10 cents for the grand stand, being made this fair for the first time, and a resolution was adopted urging the executive committee to make no charge for the grandstand next fair and to suspend the charge Friday of this fair. Secretary Pogue indicated that his plan is for a big modern grandstand to be erected next year, for which a charge will be made and then let the present grand stand be for free use of the people. The fair management has determined to tear away the old frame agricultural building that covers about two acres and erect a permanent $25,000 concrete building in its place, and to make other extensive improvements in the grounds and equipment.

DEATH IN ALAMANCE

Mr. Allen Dickey, Confederate Soldier, Dead Near Elon College

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elon College, N. C., Oct. 16.—Mr. Allen Dickey, of Northern Alamance county, died at his home last night at 2 o'clock. Mr. Dickery had been an intense sufferer for the past several years from cancer and his death was not unexpected, though his friends and relatives miss him greatly. Mr. Dickel has been a very successful merchant since the Civil War in Northern Alamance, and succeeded in spite of his affliction and disease, in amassing a considerable fortune. His health was not good and he never married.

Mr. Dickey was a Confederate soldier along with his brother, J. A. Dickey, who died last Spring, and bore an active part in many of the great battles of the Civil War. He was a private soldier and reflected credit upon the army and no braver man ever entered a battle than he.

Mr. Dickey will be greatly missed in his community, for he was a man of charitable inclination, and did all that he could to relieve the poor and suffering of their troubles and anxiety. He is the uncle of Mrs. W. F. Lawrence, wife of Prof. Lawrence, of the college faculty, and the great uncle of Mr. J. A. Dickey, Jr., who last year graduated from the college and who has been constantly with him during his last illness.

FRIENDS THOUGHT SHE WOULD DIE

Five Years' Illness Caused Mrs. Jenkins' Friends to Think She Could Not Recover—Old Lady Thought Different.

Germantown, Tenn.—"For five (5) years I was not able to do any of my work," writes Mrs. Laurel Jenkins, of this place, "and half of the time I was in bed.

I suffered with womanly trouble, and would take such nervous spells I could not stand on my feet, and my friends thought surely I would die. I could hardly get out of bed or walk a step.

At last an old lady advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can go most anywhere.

Cardui certainly saved my life. Had you seen me before I began taking it, you would not think I was the same person.

I had suffered for five years with womanly trouble, but Cardui made me well. I can't say too much for it."

You need not be afraid to try Cardui, for in so doing you are not experimenting with a medicine of doubtful merit. Cardui has been in use for more than fifty years, and its sale has steadily increased each year.

In this half century of time it has helped thousands and thousands of weak, nervous women. It is purely vegetable, mild, harmless, and of proven value.

Try Cardui, it may be just the medicine you need.

N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress. March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Friday, October 18, 1912.

Loosen up your roll and contribute a part of it to elect Wilson and Marshall.

The contributing editor is the one who contributes to the election of Woodrow Wilson.

If a woman is not born beautiful she makes herself as pretty as those who are born that way.

Some politicians act exactly like Montenegro. They wade in and go to fighting from the very start.

"We ought to have political convictions," says a campaign spieler. We ought also to have a few political convicts.

The spieler who comes along last and has his say without any man to dispute what he says, has the best of the argument.

From now till November 5th, let every day be "Wilson Day." Dig down in your jeans for a dollar or more to elect a President who will be the greatest of them all.

Editors write something every now and then about "the passing of the nude." If the mule should ever show any signs of passing, don't let him pass close enough to give you a parting kick.

While engaged in a political wrangle in Milwankee, a Republican hit a Progressive in the face with a pie. The assailant should be tried for assault with a deadly weapon owing to the fact that a Milwaukee pie is of such a character as to make it a deadly weapon whether it is taken inwardly or applied outwardly.

A Western politician posing as the candidate of "the plain people" has been robbed of $10,000 worth of diamonds. We have heard North Carolinians complain that one of the same kind is educating his daughter at an aristocratic school. There is nothing in this, of course, except that it shows that politicians who talk votes out of the plain people do their best to keep from appearing to be at all plain.

Of course, the country is fairly prosperous, but it would be more so if more of its wealth were in the pockets of the people instead of in the vaults of the few. This is a wonderful country that it should be prosperous while its people have to support their municipal, county, State and National government, and at the same time have tribute exacted from them by the tariff to add to the millions of the trusts and the beneficiaries of protection.

Only 18 days remain between now and the election of a President. Register so you can vote, and don't forget to loosen up for the Wilson campaign fund. Every dollar that can be raised will be needed. The campaign committee will have a shortage in spite of all that can be donated to the good cause. Remember, the people's small donations for Wilson have to be numberless to equal the trust contributions contributed without the asking to the two special privilege candidates.

Before the Democratic National Convention most of the Roosevelt organs were telling their readers what a fine President Gov. Wilson of New Jersey, would make, and pointing to the record of his useful life before and after he became Governor of New Jersey to prove it. Now they are trying to make some one believe that the Democratic candidate for President is not the man for the job. The Roosevelt organs have overreached themselves in many directions, but in none is the strain telling more on them than in the Wilson candidacy.—Philadelphia Record.

BIGGEST MAN IN THE RACE.

There has been a big change in Americans, if they fail to admit the loftiness of the character of Woodrow Wilson and appreciate the manhood of the Democratic nominee for President.

"Governor Wilson," says the Durham Herald (Ind.), "has criticised the trust programme of the Progressives, but he has not abused the candidate of the movement. If what a man says is to count for anything, the Governor is the biggest man in the race."

Editor King comes very nearly being a free and impartial judge, at that. He is as independent as a woodsawyer, and most everybody knows that the sawyer won't saw the wood till he "gets good and ready." The Herald puts a proper estimate upon Woodrow Wilson. The Democratic nominee has made many speeches and given out numerous statements during this campaign, but thinking men must give him the credit for appealing to their reason and not their prejudice and partisan bias. He has discussed issues and left it to the people to consider vital public questions and judge the men for themselves.

In Governor Wilson we have a fine illustration of the statesman who thinks it is sufficient to present his cause and let the American people select their President on the merit of the candidates. The platform of Col. Roosevelt is a perfectly legitimate mark of attack, just as is the political declarations of the Democratic and Republicnn parties. Wilson makes his points on the cleavage between the principles laid down and the policies proposed by the different parties. He has lucidly discussed these and has wonderfully appealed to the intelligence and patriotism of American voters.

Let it be noticed that Wilson has not simply attacked the Progressive platform because it is politics to condemn it all, because it is the declaration of an opposition party. He has observed the good planks in Col. Roosevelt's platform and in a spirit of broadness he has commended them. In doing that he rose above the mere politician, and while many thought he was going out of his way to needlessly acknowledge that there was any good at all in the opposition platforms, he has demonstrated his bigness and fitness in honest analysis of the questions upon which the voters have to pass in a considerate way. In commending the good and ponting out the fallacious and dangerous features of the Progressive platform, his view of it will have more respectful attention and better effect. His broadness is bound to impress thoughtful and reasonable men.

The Democratic nominee has demonstrated masterful capacity in presenting the issues and discussing them with clearness and precision. He has not depended on abuse but has depended upon argument that has been so convincing as to evoke retorts and not answers. To those retorts he has maintained a calm, dignified and humorous attitude. His argument has been so incisive and his logic so invincible as to leave nothing to be said in reply but to "call him a liar and make it a fight". He has towered above the opportunity to be personal and caustic, though the temptation has been great and the incentive almost irresistible. Nothing has ruffled him in his course as an intellectual campaigner, though a small man would have been peeved and provoked into saying sharp things.

Personalities have not entered into Woodrow Wilson's campaign. He pitched it on a high plane and has shown a grandeur of statesmanship that makes him worthy to be President of a great Republic. He has attacked measures without impugning motives to the man or the men who are responsible for those measures. He has left it to the voters to seek for the motives themselves and pass upon the men themselves. He has neither fumed, nor railed. He has not raved, but argued in a way to reach the calm judgment of men. He has not said any of his opponents are not fit to be President. He has not called any of them crooks or thieves. He has not accused them of perfidy nor treachery. He has not sought to lower them in the eyes of the Nation or in the estimation of their fellow men. He has given American voters credit for enough intelligence to judge men for themselves.

Woodrow Wilson has appealed to the reason, judgment and intelligence of the country. He has not confused the issues by egotistic assumption that he knows it all and has not hoped to make himself appear great by making personal attacks upon his opponents. He has spoken and his speeches have spoken for him. In that respect he has set an example to small politicians who fancy that they can build themselves up by pulling down others. Those who seek to ruin reputations for self agrandizement ought to sit up and take notice.

THE AMERICAN HEART

When misfortune comes, the hearts of men are softened. With the bullet of a beastly assassin in the breast of Theodore Roosevelt, the bitterness of the campaign was assuaged. The passion of a nation subsided. The partisan spirit of men fled hither and sympathy usurped its place. Is it providential that political rancor has been mollified at a time when the heat of the campaign was getting to the welding point?

When the news was flashed from Milwaukee that ex-President Roosevelt had been shot by a man who had murderously trailed him through many States, Governor Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic nominee for President, sent this message by wire: "It is with the greatest distress that I hear this, but I rejoice that Colonel Roosevelt has apparently escaped serious injury."

President Taft rose above the rancor of the contention at Chicago and the bitterness of a personal campaign, and promptly telegraphed this to the opponent whose spear has been pointed at him for months: "I am delighted to learn that the dastardly attempt was unsuccessful and that Colonel Roosevelt has escaped uninjured."

The press of the Republic spoke in a chorus of sympathy. Its raillery was hushed and its criticism was modified. The people were subdued by the shock and there was a unison of sympathy from the Atlantic to the Pacific. All took it that the blow was struck at the Nation; that it violated social order and civilized standards. The New York World (Democratic) thus expresses the sense of the American people:

"It is part of the great good fortune of the American people that political passion seldom runs deep and political animosities are usually short-lived. That spirit is among the most valuable assets of the Republic. Even the bitter personal quarrel between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt could not survive the attempt on Mr. Roosevelt's life. With that generous chivalry which is one of Mr. Taft's most admirable characteristics, the President telegraphed his sympathy to both Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt yesterday in the very language that he might have used when he and the ex-President were still devoted friends.

"Yet only a few hours before he was shot Mr. Roosevelt was hotly denouncing 'the stolen delegates' to whom Mr. Taft owed his renomination. Day after day during his campaign he has compared the President to a 'receiver of stolen goods,' to a 'burglar,' to a 'pickpocket' and to a 'pirate.' Of late he has dismissed him contemptuously as a 'dead cock in the pit,' and Mr. Taft has pictured Mr. Roosevelt in turns as 'a real danger' to the Republic. In fact, the President once went so far as to say of Mr. Roosevelt: 'There is a real crisis in the country's history involved in the question whether now for a third term he shall be the nominee of the Republican party and be elected to the Presidency.' There seemed to be no common ground upon which these two men could ever again meet.

"But now that a maniac tries to murder Mr. Roosevelt, all this invective and denunciation is forgotten by Mr. Taft, and properly so. Many things are said in the heat of a Presidential campaign that could best be forgotten, and Mr. Roosevelt's attacks upon Mr. Taft fall into that category. Political resentment among Americans yields quickly to the touch of personal misfortune, much to the amazement of Europeans; but who would exchange our ways for theirs? Mr. Taft in his attitude toward Mr. Roosevelt is representative of all Americans.

"Whatever his faults, Mr. Roosevelt is a great figure stalking through the pages of contemporary history. His campaign in itself is a contribution to the political education of the American people, however much we may object to his policies and however dangerous we may regard his political platform. Only the United States could produce such a political leader, just as only the United States could produce a leader like Woodrow Wilson, stepping from the presidency of a university to the Presidency of the Nation by way of a Governorship."

The World intuitively spoke for the nation when it says that President Taft voiced the sentiment of the American people in a single sentence of his telegram of sympathy: "And I earnestly hope and pray that your recovery may be speedy and without suffering." The gladiator was down and so his knightly opponent sheathed his blade. Friends and foes alike wish to see the wounded fighter on his feet and in the fray again.

THE CAUSE OF THE PEOPLE

The question has been asked: "What effect will the attempt on the life of Colonel Roosevelt have on the campaign?" Many emotional men have answered that for themselves. They have hastily said everywhere that they feel like voting for him. That is only the outburst of sympathy, but when sober judgment is restored, those who will cast a vote of sympathy will be few. On the other hand, many will be halted by the reflection that to a large extent the Colonel's method of campaigning was responsible for arousing the cranks of the country. They have seen the danger of inflaming the popular mind, and the Colonel will not benefit by the votes of those who disapprove his course, though they deeply regret that he is a victim of the passions which have been stirred by him.

Even lying on his back with a bullet in his breast, the Progressive candidate is still in a fighting humor. He is afraid of Woodrow Wilson and his dictated message to be delivered through Senator Beveridge brea[ks] the spirit of contention and [di]versy. His cause is not lost [e]ven if he is temporarily out of the cam[paign] and neither will the cause of the [Pro]ple be lost because Colonel Roosev[elt] is the obect of a nation's sympathy.

Sympathy is one thing and the relief of the people is another. In politics the people will sympathize with themselves, and they will go on and vote for themselves and their families. In this country the increased cost of living is greater than it is anywhere in the world. The burden of the tariff is felt severely in every home, and the people will not lose this opportunity to restore the government to the people. They will have sympathy but not the kind that will make themselves the continued victims of the special interests who otherwise would be given further license to practice extortion on a long suffering people.

REGISTER!

See that your name is on the registration books. Remember they will be closed after Saturday, October 26. The books were opened on October 3rd, and the registrars are required to be at the polling place in each precinct on Saturday during the time the books are open. Any one can register any day during the week by going to the home of the registrar. There is no new registration, but if you have moved from one precinct to another since the last election, you should register in the precinct in which you propose to vote. Saturday, November 2nd, is challenge day and Monday, November 4th, is trial day if any challenges are made.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Roosevelt charges Governor Deneen with being a friend of Lorimer, but we do not recall that he was on that account debarred from the Army of the Lord when his hosts were battling for control of the Chicago Convention last Summer.—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

Wilmington has raised more than five thousand dollars for the Wilson-Marshall campaign fund. That town of Wilmington can raise more of a hullabaloo on short notice than most any burg on the map, and it must be said of those near sailors down there that when they start in to do a thing they usually land all right.—Rocky Mount Telegram.

A canvass of the political situation conducted by the New York American shows that Roosevelt's strength is on the wane. This canvass embraced every State in the union. The colonel showed slight gains in parts of New England and in the Southwest, but these were more than counterbalanced by losses over the country. These losses the American attributes to the disclosures concerning the trust contributions in 1904.—Savannah News.

It is announced from Washington that the State Department has begun diplomatic negotiations regarding a proposed $50,000,000 loan to Turkey by a New York syndicate which consists of J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the First National Bank and the National City Bank. Our big financiers seem absolutely determined to loan abroad—they don't care much whether the borrower is Santo Domingo, Nicaragua, China or Turkey, just so the fifty millions or so are loaned outside the United States. And our railroads are supposed to be hungry for money at good returns, too.—Charlotte Observer.

Mr. Roosevelt's physicians are quite certain that there is no danger, but Mr. McKinley's physicians were confident that he would recover and Mr. Garfield's physicians were certain that he would live. Mr. Roosevelt is a far more vigorous man than Mr. McKinley or Mr. Garfield, and his wound is less dangerous in itself than theirs, but it is not a good thing for any man to carry a bullet in his breast for several hours before receiving surgical aid. It is not a good thing for him to make a long political speech after he has been shot. It is not a good thing for him to waste his vitality as Mr. Roosevelt did. The best thing that Mr. Roosevelt's physicians can do is to watch him carefully and see that he remains quietly in bed until all danger is past.—New York World.

TO TRACE SCHRANK'S HISTORY.

Identification Expert to Gather Every Detail of Prisoner's Life.

New York, Oct. 17.—Inspector Joseph Faurot, one of the expert identification men of the New York detective bureau, will spend the next fortnight gathering every available detail regarding John Schrank's life in New York City. The police declare that he came from ancestry in which insanity was frequent and had probably been slightly unbalanced for several years. The unhinging of his mind is believed to date either from the death of his aunt in 1907, or from the death of a girl friend in the Slocum disaster.

The information in the hands of the police show that Schrank was born in Bavaria and came to this country when nine years old with an uncle, Dominick Flammang, whose name the boy bore for many years.

His father is said to have suffered from delusions and his grandfather, a wealthy Bavarian brewer, also exhibited unsoundness of mind. The Flammangs became saloon keepers on the East Side and prospered. Eight years ago they retired with a comfortable little fortune invested in real estate. Upon their death this went to Schrank.

Mrs. Flammang died in a hospital in 1907, and her husband died a few years later. Schrank, who was devoted to his aunt, made a scene in the room where she died, refusing to leave her body until he was forcibly ejected. He again became violent at the funeral and for several days remained at the grave weeping.

NOW PROPERTY OF THE CITY

Plant of the Wilmington Sewerage Co., Turned Over to the Municipality Yesterday—Deed Placed On Record

The city of Wilmington now owns the plant of the Wilmington Sewerage Company. The formal transfer of the property took place late yesterday afternoon. This marks the end of a long and at times bitter controversy between the city officials and the Wilmington Sewerage Company. It is but stating a fact when it is said that every citizen of Wilmington will learn with great pleasure that the question has at last been disposed of. If for no other reason they will at least be glad because the columns of the local newspapers will no longer be burdened with information concerning the progress of the negotiations.

The papers formally transferring the plant were placed on record yesterday afternoon after they had been properly executed by Mayor Joseph D. Smith, attested by the city clerk and treasurer, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, in behalf of the city, and by officers of the sewerage company. The first paper filed was a mortgage and trust agreement from the Wilmington Sewerage Company to the West End Trust Co. When this was done a paper was filed cancelling by the West End Trust Company a $150,000 mortgage held against the sewerage plant and giving the Register of Deeds power of attorney to cancel the same. Next to be filed was the agreement between the Wilmington Sewerage Company and the City of Wilmington. Lastly the deed transferring the property of the Wilmington Sewerage Company to the City of Wilmington was filed for record. This completed the transaction. The papers were filed at the Court House by Hon. John D. Bellamy, counsel for the Wilmington Sewerage Company, and present also were Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, Mr. W. B. D. Smith, of the sewerage company, and Mr. Congers, of the West End Trust Company.

The City of Wilmington made its first payment on the plant of $30,000 and the balance of $100,000 is to be paid in annual installments of $5,000 each. The Wilmington Sewerage Company left $7,500 of this amount on deposit in the Atlantic Trust & Banking Company for 60 days to indemnify the city in the event any suits against the corporation are started within that period. The city officials were also shown a receipt showing the settlement by the sewerage company of a suit threatened by Mr. S. Behrends. Officials were also given to understand that the fee of Iredell Meares, Esq., amounting to $4,500 had been satisfactorily adjusted. The sewerage company also gave $1,000 bond as security for the $500 bond of the first issue that has been lost. With these details arranged the deal was completed with the exception of filing the papers for record, which was done immediately following.

At a special meeting of the City Council yesterday morning authority was given Mayor Smith to sign the papers transferring the plant. The city will restore the old sewerage rates, which are just one-half what the sewerage company has exacted from its patrons for the past few months. As the new quarter began October 1st it is expected that the water and sewerage department will begin sending out notices in a few days to patrons of the sewerage company that payment for the present quarter is now due and payable.

It is likely that a special meeting of Council will be held today to discuss matters in connection with operation of the plant. The question of authorizing the engineer to advertise immediately for bids for extending the sewers in Brooklyn and in the southern part of the city will be brought up. It is said that it is very probable that work of extending the sewerage system will be commenced just as soon as bids can be received and the contract let.

TWO OPTIONS GIVEN

Messrs. Carter and Brice May Purchase More Land South of City

Options for two valuable tracts of land were filed for record yesterday. Both options are given to B. J. Carter and W. B. Brice, of Wallace. One is from Mr. T. F. Boyd and is on 83 acres of land in Masonboro township, located on Jumping Run branch, being the same property purchased by Mr. Boyd from Mr. Godfrey Hart. The option cost $50 and was given on September 25th, 1912. It is set forth that if the option is taken up 60 days from date the property may be had for $8,500.

The other is an option from Mr. J. V. Grainger and from Mr. J. V. Grainger, as agent of Mr. C. S. Grainger and Fanny G. Marburg. The option is dated October 11th and provides if taken up 30 days from date a tract of land containing 250 to 300 acres known as Jumping Run branch tract may be bought for $30 an acre. The amount paid for the option is $200.

There was a report yesterday that Messrs. Carter and Brice had taken up the options on both pieces of property, but whether or not this is true was not learned.

AUTO FIRE APPARATUS

Two New Trucks Arrived Yesterday And Were Assembled

The two automobile fire trucks ordered by the city some months ago from the American-LaFrance Company arrived yesterday. The trucks were assembled at the depot and driven to the central fire station under their own power, Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, operating one, and Mr. Ruggles, who is here from the factory to instruct the firemen in the management of the trucks, operating the other. Councilman Moore is highly pleased with the apparatus. The try-out will be held today or tomorrow.

—Mr. C. E. McKee, of the DeCaire Incinerator Company, which has the contract to install an incinerator here for the city and county, has arrived to make preliminary preparations for the installation of the plant. The engineer of the company is expected to arrive within a week.

SPECIAL TERM IS OPPOSED

Lawyers Go on Record as Against a Session of Court to Begin December 16th—Rather Warm Meeting of the Bar.

Called at the instance of the Board of County Commissioners for the purpose of securing an expression from the attorneys as to whether they desire a special term of court to begin December 16th, as Judge Frank Carter, who is riding this district, has announced he will ask for, a rather spicy meeting of the bar of the county was held yesterday afternoon in the office of the Clerk of Superior Court. The attorneys went on record as opposed to a special term in December, but suggested that it be held in January and then only for trial of civil cases.

The discussion, spirited at times, centered about the article of Judge Frank Carter, which appeared in yesterday morning's Star, in which, it was argued, that an attack had been made upon Chairman Duncan McEachern, of the Board of County Commissioners, and that by innuendo had charged him with being in sympathy with violators of the law in this county. The real fight came when a resolution was offered thanking Mr. McEachern for asking for the desires of the bar before joining in a request for a special term of court and expressing full confidence in him. The objection was on the last clause, several members taking the position that the bar should not have any part in the controversy between Judge Carter and Chairman McEachern. However, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 13 to 4.

The meeting was presided over by the dean of the bar, E. S. Martin, Esq., while Joseph W. Little, Esq., acted as secretary. Chairman Martin stated that the purpose of the meeting was to consider the advisability of asking for a special term of Superior Court to begin December 16th, for the trial of both criminal and civil matters, as Judge Carter had stated that he would ask Governor Kitchin to call one at that time. The County Commissioners, it was explained, had asked that the bar indicate whether or not it was in favor of the special term at that time, which would be just preceding and during the holidays.

J. O. Carr, Esq., offered a resolution to the effect that the suggestion of judge for a special term of court be approved, but that it be limited to one week and for the trial of civil matters only. W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., offered as an amendment that the resolution be changed so as to provide for the trial of both criminal and civil matters, but state that in the opinion of members of the bar only civil cases should be tried.

Someone suggested that the resolution be amended so as to approve the holding of a special term for the trial of civil cases to begin on January 6th, 1913, instead of December 16th. The suggestion was accepted by Mr. Carr and Hon. John D. Bellamy seconded the resolution as it had been amended. The amendment of Mr. Turner was voted upon and lost. Then the resolution as amended, and as printed in full in the official account of the proceedings given below, was adopted.

George Rountree, Esq., read a well prepared statement relative to the controversy and he suggested that it be incorporated in the resolution outlined above. The article read by him was very commendatory of the work of Chairman Duncan McEachern, of the Board of Commissioners. In discussing the matter further, Mr. Rountree expressed the opinion that Judge Carter, in his article in yesterday's Star, was guilty of libel. Mr. Rountree also paid his respects to the newspapers.

Several members stated that they considered the article prepared and read by Mr. Rountree a separate matter and had nothing whatever to do with the calling of a special term of court and should not be incorporated in the resolution. This phase of the matter was then dropped.

J. O. Carr, Esq., then offered a resolution in which the chairman of the Board of Commissioners was thanked for his action in seeking an expression from the members of the bar relative to a special term and "that the bar has full confidence in Chairman McEachern and does not believe he is in sympathy with the law-breakers of New Hanover county."

C. C. Loughlin, Esq., most unequivocally opposed the adoption of the resolution on the ground that the matter between Judge Carter and Mr. McEachern had nothing to do with the bar's action with regard to a special term of court. Similar views were expressed by W. P. Mangum Turner and Joseph W. Little, Esqs. Mr. Turner said that he was not opposed to the clause expressing appreciation and thanks to Chairman McEachern for asking the preference of the bar in the matter of the special term, but contended that the endorsement of an official had nothing whatever to do with the calling of a special term of court. He offered as an amendment all of the resolution introduced by Mr. Carr except the last clause, which he said, he did not consider should be adopted, for by innuendo it would practically charge Judge Carter with intimating that Mr. McEachern was in sympathy with the law-breakers in this county, when he probably had no such intention, and for that reason he considered the clause unfair to Judge Carter. Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., said that the last clause would probably be construed to mean that Judge Carter had practically charged Mr. McEachern with being in sympathy with law-breakers and that he thought that this should be steered clear of. He offered as a substitute for the last clause "that we have full confidence in the chairman of the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county," and this was adopted by a vote of 13 to 4.

The secretary, Joseph W. Little, Esq., last night furnished The Star the following copy of the minutes of the proceedings as prepared by him:

"Minutes of the Proceedings of a Special Meeting of the Bar of New Hanover County, Held at the Court House October 17th, 1912.

"A special meeting of the bar of New Hanover county was held at the call of the dean, E. S. Martin, Esq., and was held in the clerk's office in the Court House at 3:30 o'clock P. M. Thursday, October 17th, 1912.

"Joseph W. Little, Esq., was requested to act as secretary of the meeting.

"The chairman stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of considering the necessity for a special term of court to be held in New Hanover county for the trial of civil and criminal cases.

"After considerable discussion of the matter, a resolution by J. O. Carr, Esq., seconded by John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., was adopted as follows:

"'Whereas, there are only four prisoners in jail and less than ten criminal cases at issue on the docket and we will have a two weeks term of court for criminal cases in January at which all cases can be disposed of; and

"'Whereas, it would incur great hardship and inconvenience to the large number of jurors and witnesses, who would necessarily be taken from their business the week before the holidays if the trial of capital cases should be entered into:

"'Resolved, That we approve the suggestion of Judge Carter for a special term of court, but that we urge that the same be confined to the trial of civil cases only, and that the same begin on the 6th of January, 1913, and continue for two weeks.'

"A discussion was then entered into dealing with the newspaper communication from Judge Carter relating to the holding of a special term of court and his references to Mr. D. McEachern, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county, which said communication appeared in the Morning Star of October 17th.

"Geo. Rountree, Esq., J. O. Carr, Esq., John D. Bellamy, Esq., John D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., Robt. Ruark, Esq., Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., C. C. Loughlin, Esq., the secretary, and perhaps others took a part in this discussion.

"After considerable debate and argument the following resolution by J. O. Carr, Esq., seconded by Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., was adopted, the vote on the resolution being shown below:

"Whereas, we are informed that the County Commissioners did not act on the question of requesting a special term of court because of a desire to ascertain the wishes of the local bar before asking for same;

"'Resolved, That we approve the action of the chairman of the Board of County Commissioners in asking that a meeting of the bar be held for the purpose of ascertaining their wishes in the matter before requesting a special term of court to be ordered.

"2. That we have full confidence in the chairman of the Board of Commissioners of New Hanover county.'

"The following voted in the affirmative on the resolution: J. O. Carr, J. D. Bellamy, J. D. Bellamy, Jr., Marsden Bellamy, A. C. Chalmers, Geo. B. Elliott, W. P. Gafford, E. S. Martin, L. J. Poisson, Geo. Rountree, Robt. Ruark, Wm. L. Smith and A. S. Williams.

"Joseph W. Little, in casting his vote, made the following statement: 'I am opposed to the resolution on the ground that the controversy is a matter strictly between Chairman McEachern and Judge Carter, and I think both parties capable of taking care of themselves, and that the matter is one about which the bar has no concern.'

"All parties voting in the negative asked that the minutes be made to show that the same statement applied to their votes.

"Those voting in the negative were as follows: Cyrus D. Hogue, Jos. W. Little, C. C. Loughlin, W. P. M. Turner.

"There being no further business to come before the meeting, upon motion the meeting adjourned."

"JOS. W. LITTLE, Secy."

Merchants Opposed.

With reference to the special term of court, the following petition to the Governor was circulated and liberally signed yesterday:

To His Excellency, Hon. W. W. Kitchin, Governor of North Carolina.

We the undersigned merchants and citizens of the city of Wilmington, do hereby most respectfully request you not to call a special term of the Superior Court for the County of New Hanover to convene on December 16th and continue for two weeks.

This is the busy season with the merchants of this city, when people are making their holiday purchases, and a special term of court at this time, requiring the attendance of large numbers of veniremen for the trial of capital cases will materially interfere with our business and will entail, in our opinion, severe losses upon the merchants of this city.

RETURNS FROM LONG TRIP

Atlantic Coast Line's Car, the "Nation's Garden Spot," Back From Fairs In the West, Where Exhibits Were Made

After fulfilling its mission in a most acceptable manner, having visited four of the leading fairs in Ohio and Michigan, where splendid exhibits were made, the Atlantic Coast Line car, "Nation's Garden Spot," has returned to Wilmington and with it came the two officials of the road who accompanied the car to the four places visited. The car was in charge of Mr. E. N. Clark, of Wilmington, agricultural and immigration agent for Virginia, North and South Carolina, and Mr. Wilbur McCoy, of Jacksonville, Fla., agricultural and immigration agent for Florida, Georgia and Alabama. Both are well pleased with the trip and are satisfied that the desired results will be accomplished.

Leaving here on August 27th, the "Nation's Garden Spot" car went first to Dayton, Ohio, where an exhibit was made at the county fair. The exhibits collected by the Atlantic Coast Line came from all parts of the great railroad system and were fairly representative of the Southland. There were exhibits of the various crops that are raised in the different States traversed by the railroad, photographs and a mass of literature descriptive of this part of the country. The exhibit was pronounced as being one of the finest ever collected by a railroad and Mr. Clark, who practically prepared the exhibit, may justly feel proud at the showing made. No exhibit was made at the Ohio State fair at Columbus for the reason that space would not be allowed. The management of the fair refusing space to the Coast Line gave as the reason that Ohio has none too many people now and that they did not want to aid in any way in inducing folks to leave for another State.

After spending a week at Dayton the exhibit was taken on the "Nation's Garden Spot" car to the West Michigan State Fair at Grand Rapids, Mich., for a week. As was the case at Dayton thousands of people visited the exhibit at Grand Rapids. Leaving Grand Rapids the car went next to Detroit, Mich., where an exhibit was made at the East Michigan State fair. After exhibiting there for a week the car was parked for another week and then was taken to Springfield, Ill., where it remained for nine days during the Illinois State fair. This was the last place visited. Thousands of people visited the exhibit at Springfield and the officials of the fair became very enthusiastic over the showing made by the railroad. So enthusiastic, in fact, that they had hundreds of their friends to visit the exhibit, which, it was said, had never before been equalled by a railroad at the fair there.

At Grand Rapids and Detroit the Coast Line exhibit was near that of the Great Northern Railroad and it was the concensus of opinion of all who visited the two that the A. C. L. exhibit was far ahead of the other. The Norfolk & Western also had an exhibit at Detroit and at Dayton and at Detroit and Grand Rapids the Illinois Central made an exhibit. The Coast Line officials are pleased to feel that their exhibit suprassed any other on the grounds at the several fairs visited.

Messrs. Clark and McKoy distributed 20,000 bulletins and 13,000 copies of a pamphlet telling of the "Nation's Garden Spot." A large number of people, said the Coast Line men, that from the exhibit they were very favorably impressed with the South and would come to this section of the country on a prospecting trip. Mr. Clark said that the South is far the best part of the country, especially for agriculture as the climate is better and so many more crops can be grown here than in the West. Grain, corn and Irish potatoes are the principal crops there. This is the first time the Coast Line ever attempted this method of acquainting the people of the West with what the South has to offer and it is believed that the undertaking has been a great success. Fine results are expected to follow.

Mr. Clark was accompanied home by his wife and little son and Mrs. Clark's mother, who spent the period with relatives in Cleveland, Ohio.

SPEAKS IN TWIN CITIES.

Progressive Candidate for Governor Heard in Winston-Salem.

Iredell Meares, Esq., of this city, Progressive candidate for Governor, spoke in Winston-Salem Tuesday night. Wednesday's Sentinel contained the following relative to his address:

"Hon. Iredell Meares, Progressive candidate for Governor of North Carolina, addressed a good audience at the court house last night. Many erstwhile Taft men in the county were seen in the audience and quite a number of farmers were present

"Mr. Meares expressed the opinion that the affair at Milwaukee would make votes for Roosevelt.

"The speaker pleaded for realignment of the people along political lines saying that there is a new alignment all over the country. He spoke of the lobbyists as an invisible governing power and declared that boss rule must go.

"He held to the doctrine of the minimum wage, declared that trusts should be regulated rather than destroyed, and held to the principle of protection in the tariff."

I Am Spending too Much

"Last month my wages paid my board and other living expenses and left me ten dollars for incidentals. The ten is gone. I have nothing to show for it. I have tried to remember just how I spent it, but at the best there is almost half for which I cannot account."

"I am spending too much for pleasure, and there are many things I need."

DR. A. D. M'DONALD BEREAVED

His Sister Passes Away at Jackson Springs—Daughter Lives Here

Relatives and friends in this city learned with much regret a few days ago of the death of Mrs. C. J. Thompson, which occurred last Friday at her home near Jackson Springs, N. C. She suffered at partial stroke of paralysis in February of this year and early last week she grew worse, becoming totally paralyzed. She was born in 1840 near Carthage and had spent the greater portion of her life in Moore county. She is survived by three sons and one daughter, these being Messrs. William Alexander Thompson, Wood G. Thompson and James Duncan Thompson, all living at or near Jackson Springs, and Miss Mary A. Thompson, of this city. She is also survived by two brothers, Dr. A. D. McDonald, of Wilmington; Dr. H. M. McDonald, a druggist, of LaGrange, and one half sister, Mrs. Alexander Butler, of Lumberton. Dr. McDonald, of this city, was unable to attend the funeral on account of illness and his brother at LaGrange was prevented from attending for the same reason.

THE SEASHORE HOTEL

Meeting of Stockholders to Declare Dividend — Improvements

The stockholders of the Seashore Hotel Company, Wrightsville Beach, held a meeting Thursday afternoon for the purpose of receiving the report of the officers of the company of the season's business. The report was very gratifying and a dividend of 12 per cent was declared. Extensive improvements are to be made on the hotel before the opening of next season. The matter of improvements is referred to the board of directors, and they will likely take action in a short time. The plan is to remodel the main portion of the hotel, enlarging the dining room and adding another story and a half, which would give 50 or 75 additional rooms.

Splendid String of Fish

Yesterday morning, Messrs. Claud Brock and Crawford Ruark, of this city, caught a fine string of fish off the Seashore Hotel pier. The string was composed of 80 bluefish, 16 Virginia mullets, four large trout, two flounders and one drum. The anglers stated that they were fishing only about five hours.

Story of Early California.

Beautiful portrayal of Spanish chivalry and romance at the Grand Theatre today. Also a big Western film.

MR. W. A. MARTIN INJURED

Knocked Down by Negro Bicyclist at Sixth and Princess Streets

On his way home from his office downtown, a few minutes after six o'clock, as he dismounted from an eastbound car of the Tidewater Power Co., at Sixth and Princess streets, Mr. W. A. Martin, of W. A. Martin & Co., was knocked down by a negro bicyclist yesterday evening, having been painfully, but it is hoped not seriously injured. Mr. Martin had just alighted from the car on the south side of the street and the car had been rung ahead when the negro bicyclist, who was following the car, dashed into him, hurling him to the curbing on one side of the street. He received a painful scalp wound on top of the head and was otherwise badly shaken up. He was taken in a passing automobile to the office of Dr. Burbank, where he was given attention and later accompanied to his home, where he was resting very quietly later in the evening.

The negro was Noble Evans, about 18 years old, of Masonboro Sound. He was taken in charge by employes of the Tidewater Power Co., and carried to the police station where a charge of reckless riding was entered up against him. The many friends of Mr. Martin hope to see him out again in a few days.

Night Firing at Fort Caswell in November—Directions

The Star is asked to print the following by Col. C. A. Bennett, Coast Artillery Corps, commanding Fort Caswell:

"During night firing at Fort Caswell, November 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th, 1912, boats will be in danger if north of a line joining whistling buoy and Cape Fear, or if eastward of a southwest line through Bell buoy.

"Guns will fire at a moving target in main channel between Bald Head Light and Bell Buoy.

"Firing will begin soon after dark and will continue as long as searchlights are in operation."

Big Class of Candidates

Cape Fear Tent, Knights of the Maccabees of the World, had a very interesting meeting Wednesday. Several candidates were initiated and a big class is to be initiated next Wednesday, which will wind up the campaign for members under cheap rates. Mr. E. H. Palmer, Deputy State Commander, who has been here for the last 30 days working in the interest of the order, will leave for Asheville after the next meeting.

HON. THOMAS SETTLE SPEAKS

Old-Line Republican Nominee for Governor, Addresses New Hanover Republicans in Court House —Local Option Plank

An audience which comfortably filled the Court House last night heard with interest and pleasure an address of an hour or a little longer from the Honorable Thomas Settle, one of the two candidates in this State for Governor of North Carolina. The crowd, complimentarily large as it was, would have been much larger but for the fact that the train from the North bringing the speaker to the city, did not arrive until well towards 9 o'clock and many people had left the Court House, not caring to risk the caprice of a railroad bulletin board announcing a belated train.

An attractive speaker, bound to Wilmington and the Cape Fear by ties of many warm personal friendships and relationships, Mr. Settle was greeted with enthusiasm by his friends, who gave attentive hearing to what he said and liberally applauded. Postmaster Thomas E. Wallace presided at the meeting and in brief but graceful language presented the speaker of the evening. A master of sarcasm, the shafts of his ridicule were directed mainly at Democracy's attitude upon the local self-government plank, commonly known as "Settle's Local Option Plank."

In the home of his Progressive Republican opponent, the Hon. Iredell Meares, the "Bull Moose" candidate, and out of consideration, no doubt, for the National Progressive leader, Mr. Settle did not once refer to the recalcitrant wing of his party and preached strictly old-line Republicanism in the old-time way. An orator without a doubt, his address was a gem of eloquence and was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the few Republicans who were fortunate enough to hear him.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Six Months for Negro Man—Cases Against Women Continued.

The Recorder's court yesterday morning was of rather interesting nature and there were quite a number of cases tried. Dave Nixon, colored, was before "His Honor" on a charge of stealing a case of lard, and got six months for his trouble. He later took an appeal. F. "Happy" Adams was arraigned n a charge of larceny by trick. It is alleged that Adams received a check for $7 from Mr. J. M. Satchwell for the purpose of procuring beer for him, but that he never delivered the beer. He will be tried next Tuesday.

Minnie Faison, for conducting a gambling house, paid the costs.

C. Hopkins was taxed the costs for speeding his automobile. He was also taxed the costs in a case for running his machine without the license tag displayed on it.

Cases against the large number of denizens of the underworld, charged with vagrancy, were continued until next Tuesday at the request of Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, who stated that he had an intimation that most of the defendants were preparing to leave the city and that he desired continuance to give them an opportunity to get out. If they are here next Tuesday they will be tried on the charge brought against them.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: James C. Lewis and wife, of Brunswick county, to L. E. Squires, of Council, for $500, lot at Carolina Place, the same being on Barnett avenue, 99 feet east of 21st street, 33x113 feet in size; D. F. Klein and wife to D. R. Foster, trustee, for $10 and other considerations, lot 3 in block 212, same being on west side of Dickinson street, 87.3 from Mulberry street; Dandy Johnson to James J. Darling, for $50 and other considerations, house and lot at No. 1020 North Seventh street, 33x75.3 feet in size. The Wilmington Suburban Company to Z. J. Carter and W. B. Brice, of Wallace, for $10 and other considerations, two tracts of land at Greenfield Park.

Alleged Crook Gives Bond.

George Brayford, charged with larceny from the person, one of the five alleged crooks arrested at Highwood Park during the carnival there last week for fleecing three citizens, who has since been in jail in default of $500 bond, gave the required amount of bond late Wednesday night and was released. He gave $500 cash bond. It is said that the money was brought here by a stranger. Of the other five, one was found not guilty, one was fined for gambling and the other, who was also fined for gambling, and held for higher court for larceny from the person, walked away, the county officer in whose custody he had been placed saying that he had no paper on which to hold him.

Makes Face Young— Tightens Love Ties

("Aurilla," in Woman's Sphere.)

A fretful expression, a wrinkled face and a faded complexion, do more to drive the male members from home than is commonly supposed. It was one of my greatest difficulties to appear smiling, fresh and elegant when my dear ones were with me. But I have overcome all that. I have changed my mental attitude and I now find it second nature to look cheerful. Due partly to this, partly to a remarkable treatment recommended by a friend, my appearance has so improved I look fifteen years younger than before.

A simple face lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel, proved a wonderful wrinkle-chaser. I still use this occasionally. To renovate my complexion I purchased an ounce of ordinary mercolized wax at my druggist's and before using this up, a marvelous transformation had taken place. It was like removing an unsightly mask, revealing a new face, a youthful complexion of distinctive delicacy, clear, white and velvety. I merely applied the wax like cold cream before retiring, washing it off mornings. Ten days' treatment sufficed.

..Theatrical..

Seats went on sale this morning at Plummer's for both performances at the Academy tomorrow (matinee and night) of the big music show "The Winning Widow". An extraordinary low scale of prices prevails for the matinee, all seats downstairs being 75 cents, all in the balcony 50 cents, while a school child will be admitted to any part of the theatre for 25 cents.

The jolly "Widow" has received some flattering press notices this season. In addition to those cited from the Charlotte papers comes the following from the Winston Journal:

"'The Winning Widow' perhaps the best costumed musical comedy that has visited Winston-Salem, was presented before a large audience at the Elks' Auditorium last night, and was most joyously greeted.

"Fun and frolic ran riot, while the music was of the classiest. Lovely Mary Greene's characterization of the Widow was quite the best thing in the show, while Mul Clark and Ben Turbett as the rival suitors for her hand—and incidentally, her boodle—furnished quite an adequate number of screams."

"The Winning Widow" should prove one of the banner attractions of the Wilmington season, as it is a most important factor in the musical comedy field, the audience is hurled boldly into mass of whirly, girly scenes that follow each other in bewildering succession. Ed P. Moran, the author, has made the entertainment in two acts and eight scenes. It is a musical comedy of the better class. There is rhyme and reason for everything in the current edition, and the characters of this artistic playlet are merged into a musical entertainment called "The Winning Widow" and surrounded as it is by the hysteria of action, laughter, sparkling music and lavishness which are the stands like a pure white gem. "The Winning Widow" is at least one year ahead of its predecessors. It is spiced and paprickared with bright, clean comedy, brilliant tuneful music and many specialties this year. It is all this and more. It is the biggest, brightest and most novel musical entertainment in the musical comedy world, and nothing but the word sensation will describe it. There are many musical comedy celebrities, fore

Big Day at the Grand Theatre.

The Grand Theatre, nearing the week-end, will offer today one of the best bills of the week. In the moveys the feature will perhaps be "When California Was Young," a Vitagraph of surpassing beauty and sweetness. In those days the State was rife with Spanish chivalry and romance and the picture will be a winner with Grand patrons today. There is a love story running through the piece and the interest of the spectator will be carried along in delightful manner from beginning to end.

The other feature picture today will be the first presentation of an Essanay, "The Shotgun Ranchman," a fine western drama showing the reformation of a surly old ranchman when the sweet influence of a little child comes into his turbulent life. The picture is one of the best by this celebrated house and will be a big feature today.

Mr. Leonard Chick, the balladist at the theatre, will sing today "Sweet Eileen Asthore" by James T. Russell. He is the writer of "River Shannon" and it is said to be even a prettier song than "Shannon." It is positively said to be the sweetest Irish song ever sung.

The pictures will be put on with all realistic effects and the complete orchestra will play the accompaniment.

At the Bijou.

Another all 'round swell bill is scedued for presentation today at the popular Bijou and, as usual, it will, no doubt, draw folks by the hundred. The bill is, perhaps, the best seen in months, as every film is one of the very latest brag pictures, and cost the Bijou management a pretty penny to obtain. However, far be it from the Bijou to raise the price of admission. The price is petrified at the 5 cents mark, and it will never change.

The Vitagraph's greatest dramatic, "Her Spoiled Boy", in which the young romantic actor, Robert Thornby, plays the stellar role, will top the bill. It is the strongest of its kind and will grip the heart. Going West a spoiled son gets in hard luck and writes home for money. He then robs the very stage coach that is bringing him the money from his poor old mother. He gets possession of the letter in his stolen booty, reads it and repents. He gives himself up to the law, serves his sentence in prison like a man and then returns home, to make the last days of his old mother happy ones.

Essanay's latest dramatic film, one of powerful calibre, is also a star in "The End of the Feud." It deals with an ever fascinating subject. It is a gripping drama of the Kentucky hills, showing a bitter feud of years standing is ended in a sensational but unique way.

"The Pink Pajama Girl" is the star clown film today, and it is a rouser for fun. It is just as merry as its name. The girl, in her pink pajamas, runs into the hall to mail a letter and the door of her room springs locked. Her adventures are too ridiculous to describe. They will have to seen to be appreciated, and will cause howls of genuine laughter.

WILL HOLD PUBLIC MEETING.

Local Greek Citizens Deeply Interested in Balkan Situation.

In response to a call of Mr. D. G. Vafiadi, Royal Vice Consul for Greece for North and South Carolina, about 50 local Greeks called at his home, No. 5 North Ninth street, last night between the hours of 8:30 and 10 o'clock to talk over with him the situation in the Balkan States. The principal matter discussed last night was with regard to raising funds for the Greeks at home and it was decided to hold a public meeting Sunday at which Americans as well as Greeks will be most cordially invited. A number of prominent American citizens will be invited to make addresses. The Greeks will close their places of business and attend the meeting. Mr. Yafiadi will later announce the place and hour of the meeting.

Caught Monster Drum

Messrs. R. F. Gilbert and E. J. Pigford, fishing in Moore's Inlet last night, landed the largest drum caught at Wrightsville Beach this season. The monster of the finny tribe weighed 41 pounds and was more than 40 inches long. The remarkable part of the catch was that the fish was landed with a comparatively small hook. Mr. Pigford also caught another drum of smaller size.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

Beautiful Shaft Marks Spot Where Pennsylvania Heroes Fell.

Culpepper, Va., Oct. 17.—The monument erected by Pennsylvania to its soldiers who fell in battle and who were buried in the National cemetery here, was unveiled today in the presence of Governor John K. Tener, members of his staff and a distinguished array of Confederate and Union veterans. The monument is a massive shaft of granite surmounted by a dome. One side shows a record of 37 battles fought on Culpepper's soil, in which Pennsylvania soldiers were engaged. Governor Mann was called away this morning and his secretary, Ben P. Owen, made the address of welcome to which Governor Tener responded. Adjutant General Stuart, of Pennsylvania, received the monument from the commission on behalf of his State and formally presented it to the United States government, the spech of acceptance on behalf of the Secretary of War being made by Capt. C. F. Humphrey of the War Department. Governor Tener and his party returned to Pennsylvania after the ceremonies.

NO COMMENT TO MAKE.

Wilson Says Nothing on Statement Issued by Roosevelt.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 17.—The statement by Col. Roosevelt asking his opponents to continue the campaign was read to Governor Wilson tonight, but he said he had no comment to make.

Acting Chairman McAdoo joined the Governor's party here tonight, but also made no comment.

Saves Leg of Boy

"It seemed that my 14-year-old boy would have to lose his leg, on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise," wrote D. F. Howard, Aquone, N. C. "All remedies and doctors treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils, skin eruptions, piles. 25 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

LOCAL DOTS.

—A series of meetings at Delgado Baptist church, which have been in progress some time, closed Wednesday night. The services were conducted by Rev. M. O. Alexander, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church. There were 11 conversions during the meeting.

—Luke Daniels, colored, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Kelly on a warrant charging him with the larceny of $1.25, bank book and receipts from Lucius Thompson, colored. The negro was committed to jail in default of bond for appearance for trial before Justice King at 10 o'clock this morning.

—At a special meeting yesterday morning of the City Council it was decided not to appeal the case of Craig against the City of Wilmington, which was tried last week and in which the plaintiff was given judgment for $250 and costs. Council therefore, approved payment of the judgment and costs, amounting all told to about $310.

INVESTIGATE POLLUTION.

Federal and State Officials Confer on Potomac Oyster Beds.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Federal officials and the State authorities of Virginia and Maryland conferred here today and arranged a joint supplemental investigation of the pollution of the Potomac river oyster beds, to be made within a fortnight.

State Bacteriologist Ferguson and State Chemist MacGrauder, of Virginia; Dr. W. D. Stokes, of the Maryland board of health; Mr. Saunders, State dairy and food commissioners of Virginia, and others conferred with Secretary Wilson, Acting Chief Doolittle, of the Chemistry Bureau, and Dr. Geo. W. Stiles and W. W. Skinner, of the Department of Agriculture.

Contending that the oyster interests of the two States were too large to be satisfied with anything but a co-operative examination of the water and the oysters, the State representatives reached an agreement on details of the work and representatives of the three governments will have a special boat on which to conduct their work.

The inquiry is the outgrowth of the department's recent announcement that investigation had shown the river polluted as far down as Blackistone Island.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The suit of the New York Journal of Commerce to test the validity of the newspaper law, today reached the Supreme Court of the United States. The original action was filed in the New York Federal courts October 9th. This probably may be a record for bringing up a case from a lower court. The case will be advanced for early consideration.

YOUNG MOTHERS

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both herself and the coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby, too, is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE.

Do not sap the springs of life by neglect of the human mechanism, by allowing the accumulation of poisons in the system. An imitation of Nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous strength is to take an alterative glyceric extract (without alcohol) of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, Bloodroot, Stone and Mandrake root with Cherrybark. Over 40 years ago Dr. Pierce gave to the public this remedy, which he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. He found it would help the blood in taking up the proper elements from food, help the liver into activity, thereby throwing out the poisons from the blood and vitalizing the whole system as well as allaying and soothing a cough. No one ever takes cold unless constipated, or exhausted, and having what we call mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. The "Discovery" is an all-round tonic which restores tone to the blood, nerves and heart by imitating Nature's methods of restoring waste of tissue, and feeding the nerves, heart and lungs on rich red blood.

MRS. DORN.

"I suffered from pain under my right shoulder blade also a very severe cough," writes MRS. W. DORN, of New Brookland, S. C., to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. "Had four different doctors and none did me any good. Some said I had consumption, others said I would have to have an operation. I was bedridden, unable to sit up for six months—and was nothing but a live skeleton. You advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. When I had taken one bottle of the 'Discovery' I could sit up for an hour at a time, and when I had taken three bottles I could do my cooking and tend to the children. I took fourteen bottles in all and was then in good health. My weight is now 167 pounds.

GOLD DUST
not only cleans, but sterilizes

Gold Dust does more than wash the surface—it digs deep after germs and hidden particles of dirt and decay. It purifies and makes everything sanitarily safe. Neither dirt nor germs can live where Gold Dust has made its appearance.

Gold Dust needs little help from you; it does most of the work alone. It is a vegetable-oil soap in powdered form, to which are added cleansing and purifying ingredients which get busy the moment they touch the water.

Use Gold Dust for all cleansing purposes. It saves time, saves labor, saves backs, and saves money.

SHARP ADVANCE IN COTTON

Prices Went Up at Opening on Unexpected Firmness in Liverpool, But Southern Selling Caused Market to Yield.

New York, Oct. 17.—There was quite a sharp advance in cotton early today, but the market soon yielded to continued Southern selling and while the close was very steady, last prices were net two points lower to four points higher. The opening was firm, at an advance of 8 to 12 points, on unexpected firmness in Liverpool, reports that the continent had been a heavy buyer, following earlier week sales in the English market, covering of shorts and foreign buying. January contracts touched 10.50 richt after the call, but the South was a heavy seller on this advance; the weather map showed rather more favorable conditions in the South than had been anticipated, and with the official forecast indicating warmer conditions in the East, prices soon turned easy. After selling back to practically the closing figures of yesterday, a bullish report on Eastern belt conditions, reports of heavy rains in Texas, light frosts in North Carolina and Memphis advices indicating a more active spot demand, caused a bulge of five or six points. This news, however, failed to attract any material broadening of the outside demand and the market during the afternoon turned easy again under continued Southern selling and liquidation by early buyers. December contracts held a point over yesterday's closing figures, but other months sold 2 or 3 points lower, or back to nearly the low level of the week. Toward the close, rumors that the National Ginners' Association had issued a preliminary report indicating 6,650,000 bales ginned to date against 7,758,000 last year caused a slight rally, with most of the active months closing a shade over the final figures of last night.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 10.75; do. gulf, 11.00; sales, 500 bales.

Futures closed very steady.

Fortunes In Faces

There's often much truth in the saying "her face is her fortune," but it's never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. Impure blood is back of them all, and shows the need of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They promote health and beauty. Try them. 25cts. at R. R. Bellamy's.

WAR A FACTOR IN STOCKS

Foreign Conditions Absorb Interest of the Financial Centers—Amalgamated Copper Was Feature of the Market.

New York, Oct. 17.—Foreign conditions were again factors of primary importance in the local stock market today. Formal declaration of war by Turkey against Bulgaria and Servia called renewed attention to the tense situation in Eastern Europe, and advances in the British and French discount rates, while not unexpected, served as reminders of impending as well as current events at important continental centers.

Of Europe's three leading financial institutions the statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany was far and away the most encouraging of the day, disclosing large gains in gold and cash, with a decided contraction of discounts. The British bank lost more gold, its liability reserves are much under last year's, and the 5 per cent. discount is the highest in about two years. The Bank of France, also, lost some gold and increased its discounts by over $37,000,000.

Firmness prevailed on the Paris bourse, while Berlin was reactionary by reason of the Balkan troubles. Money was dearer in London as a result of the higher bank rate and our securities evinced an inclination to sag. Later, however, London turned moderate buyer in this market, again taking Amalgamated Copper and Steel.

Amalgamated Copper was the foremost feature of the market, surpassing all other speculative favorites as to activity and width of movement. Shortly before the close, announcement of the increase in the annual dividend from 4 per cent. to 6 per cent. became known, but the stock failed to equal its best figure of the morning, while the rest of the list lost none of its early heaviness in several important instances.

The bond market was dull and heavy, total sales, par value, aggregating $1,400,000. United States bonds, unchanged on call.

Total sales of stocks today, 498,100 shares.

BOY'S HEROISM MAY COST LIFE

Relapses After Amputation of Leg for Girl's Benefit

Gary, Ind., Oct. 17.—Willie Ruges, the newsboy who a few weeks ago allowed surgeons to amputate his crippled leg that sufficient skin might be obtained to graft upon the burned body of Miss Ethel Smith, has suffered a relapse and is reported to be in a serious condition at a hospital here.

The turn in the boy's condition came a short while before Miss Smith was released from the hospital, convalescent. Before leaving the institution Miss Smith knelt at her benefactor's bedside, offered a prayer for him and then kissed him goodbye.

New York, Oct. 17.—Thomas F. Wheelwright was elected at a meeting here today president of the Virginian Railway & Power Company, a Gould property, with headquarters at Richmond.

is the first time that the people have ever undertaken to finance a Presidential campaign and they are doing it wonderfully well. If the ladies will help, we will win. No better opportunity than here and now to form these ladies into an auxiliary, as they have been formed into an auxiliary in the National canvass for subscriptions.

That the movement in Wilmington to eclipse every other town and city in the United States in its support of Wilson is attracting attention at National headquarters is evidenced by a telegraphic tender yesterday to Mr. Hugh MacRae to send 'ex-Governor Cone Johnson, of Texas, to Wilmington to help in the fight either on October 26th or 29th. Hon. Francis D. Winston will be here on the 26th and it will probably be arranged to have ex-Governor Johnson here at the same time. Assistant National Secretary W. W. Vick, in writing of the probable engagement of the ex-Governor, says:

"Cone Johnson is one of the most brilliant orators in the country and a personal friend of mine. He tells me that he could go to Wilmington on his way back to Texas and make an address there."

A later announcement will be made with reference to the definite date of Mr. Johnson's coming. The following are reports of those committees which had reported last night:

SPOKE IN ONSLOW.

Senator Overman and Congressman Faison Heard at Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, N. C., Oct. 16.—Democratic voters of Onslow county had an opportunity to hear two fine Democratic speeches here Monday, when Senator Lee S. Overman and Representative Faison spoke to a court house packed with enthusiastic listeners.

Senator Overman spoke first. He was presented to the audience as a Democratic speaker, who is speaking for Democracy and not for office, and made a telling speech, arraigning the Republican and Bull Moose parties for an abuse of the trust of the people. He asserted that the Democratic party is the party of elemental principles, and that now the people are obeying the recommendation of the State Constitution in recurring to first principles. He appealed to the voters to support all the party nominees, for all erring brethren to come back to the true political home and hope of the great masses.

Dr. Faison was presented as a hard working, hospitable agent at Washington. He spoke of the Republicans and Bull Moosers in no uncertain terms. He asked what is a man to do, when Judge Pritchard repudiates Settle and when Cowles, Walser and Dr. Thompson all refuse to take the care of the new party in hand, but to vote for that true, pure and Democratic reformer—Locke Craig. He spoke of the iniquities of protection on the necessities of life and industry. He preached straight Democracy from start to finish.

The speakers were presented by the county Democratic chairman, E. M. Koonce.

SCHRANK'S BAIL $15,000.

Cond of Roosevelt's Assailant Doubled in Municipal Court

Milwaukee, Oct. 17.—The bail of John Schrank, charged with attempting to kill Colonel Theodore Roosevelt Monday night, was today increased from $7,500 to $15,000 by Judge Backus of the municipal court, to which the case has been transferred. No effort has been made by the prisoner to furnish the bond and no reason has thus far been given for doubling the amount.

Colonel Roosevelt will not be required to come to Milwaukee to appear at the trial of his attempted slayer, according to the decision of District Attorney Zabel today.

and was greeted with loud cheers everywhere. The Governor referred in his speeches to Republican billboard advertisements, showing a picture of President Taft and surrounded with campaign arguments. "One phrase in that advertisement sticks in my memory," said the Governor, "that is 'it is better to be safe than sorry.'

"It is also better to hug a base than to steal it. But I would rather be courageous than sorry. I would rather espouse a great cause and lose, than to be ashamed to espouse any cause at all. I would rather risk my fortune than sell my liberty."

The Governor talked at length on progressive principles.

"I take off my hat to Bob LaFollette," he said.

"He has never taken his eye for a single moment from the goal of the true progressive, in spite of every temptation."

The nominee and his party left at 9:45 o'clock for West Virginia, where he speaks tomorrow at several points.

A large number of policemen were distributed among the crowd at the opera house here tonight when Governor Wilson spoke. This was the result of a threat made by an Italian to "shoot Wilson the same as Roosevelt was shot."

This morning Chief of Police Black was notified by Mrs. Sarah Hudson, of Wilmington, Del., that while her sister, Mrs. Hattie Whitson, was leaving her place of employment she heard an Italian workman exclaim: "Wilson will be here tomorrow and he will get a bullet through him the same as Roosevelt did. I will put one in him. I will shoot him myself, the

The police know the name of the Italian, but have not located him. There was no indication tonight of any harm befalling the Governor. He left for West Virginia shortly before 10 o'clock.

DYNAMITE DEFENSE

Lines to Be Followed Developed at Trial Yesterday

Indianapolis, Oct. 17.—Lines which the defense will follow in the "conspiracy" trial were developed today in the examination of Miss Mary C. Dye, of Pittsburg, and Miss Nora Haley, of Chicago, former stenographers of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. Their testimony was devoted entirely to the identification of letters which John J. McNamara, secretary of the union, kept on file, and which the government charges indicate the 45 men on trial for conspiracy for the illegal transportation of explosives on passenger trains. In cross examination Senator John W. Kern, counsel for the defense, followed the defense's opening contention that the McNamaras and Ortie McManigal alone were responsible for the explosions. The witnesses stated that McNamara kept a special place for private correspondence, which no one in the office was allowed to see. Miss Haley testified that Frank M. Ryan, president of the union, visited the Indianapolis headquarters about once a month.

Referring to the vault in the office in which the government asserts dynamite and nitro-glycerine were hidden for the "dynamiting crew," Mr. Kern aswed: "Was that vault open to every one in the office?"

"It was," Miss Haley said. "I was required to go in and out of it frequently and I held the combination."

It will be several days before the testimony of "identification" witnesses is completed and before McManigal takes the stand.

District Attorney Charles W. Miller said today he had received word from United States Marshal Martin, at Kansas City, Mo., that Federal authorities were investigating the reported assault on H. S. Pearce, a hotel clerk, who testified recently at the trial.

CRUISER TO VERA CRUZ

Officials Alarmed Over Danger to Americans From the Rebellion

Washington, Oct. 17.—Officials here became thoroughly alarmed today over the imminent danger to Americans in Vera Cruz, captured Wednesday by rebels, and Beekman Winthrop, acting Secretary of the Navy, ordered the cruiser Des Moines, now making a tour of Mexican ports, to return to Vera Cruz. Commander Hughes will have full power to exercise his own discretion in safe-guarding Americans in the beleagured cities and without further instructions can land a party if conditions warrant.

The Des Moines has 279 bluejackets aboard, but carries no marines. She left Vera Cruz 10 days ago for Puerto Mexico, from which port she sailed yesterday for Progreso to arrive tonight. She will return with all speed to Vera Cruz, about 450 miles to the southwest across the Bay of Campechy.

Reports out of Mexico City today said the movement of which General Diaz is the master spirit has attracted widespread sympathy. Confirmation also has been received here of the introduction of a bill in the Mexican Chamber of Deputies calling for the immediate resignation of the present cabinet.

Although messages to the State Department confirming the surrender of Vera Cruz to General Felix Diaz report that the city is quiet, officials realize the perilous positions of Americans and other foreigners would find themselves in should the Mexican Federal forces attempt to re-capture the capital seaports.

first day of their lives, were brought in.

With the aid of a mirror, which enabled him to catch a glimpse of the out-world, without turning about in bed, Col. Roosevelt looked out at the street scenes, when he was not talking with Mrs. Roosevelt or reading. He ate three hearty meals and said that he felt "bully."

The colonel found it difficult to arrange his pillows comfortably when he wished to read, and a special head rest was brought in for him. It is fitted between the mattress and the bed spreads and is so arranged that the patient, by turning a wheel, can elevate his head and shoulders to any desired angle. Col. Roosevelt had his doubts as to whether he would like it and Dr. Terrell volunteered to test it.

The head rest was fitted to the bed in the adjoining room and the doctor, after testing it, he said, until his back was lame, told the colonel he would change beds with him at any time he desired. The change may be made tomorrow.

Worn out by her long watch, Mrs. Roosevelt left her husband's bedside at 9 o'clock to retire in her room adjoining. It was the first time since her arrival from New York that she had left the patient during his waking hours. The colonel said he was not sleepy and after his wife left he propped himself up in bed to read.

Wants Campaign to Go On

Chicago, Oct. 17.—"Campaign activities should not cease because of Colonel Roosevelt's attempted assassination, so far as he is concerned," he said tonight.

The following statement was issued by Colonel Roosevelt at Mercy Hospital in answer to what Mr. Bryan said yesterday in his speech at Franklin, Ind.:

"I wish to express my cordial agreement with the manly and proper statement of Mr. Bryan at Franklin, Ind., when in arguing for a continuation of the discussion of the issues at stake, in the contest, he said: 'The issues of this campaign should not be determined by the act of an assassin. Neither Colonel Roosevelt nor his friends could ask that the discussion should be turned away from the principles involved. If he is elected President it should be because of what he has done in the past, and what he proposes to do hereafter.'

"I wish to point out, however, that neither I nor my friends have asked that the discussion be turned away from the principles involved. On the contrary, we emphatically demand that the discussion be carried on precisely as if I had not been shot. I shall be sorry if Mr. Wilson does not keep on the stump and I feel that he owes it to himself and the American people to continue on the stump.

"I wish to make one more comment on Mr. Bryan's statement. It is, of course, perfectly true that in voting for me or against me, consideration must be paid to what I have done in the past and to what I propose to do.

"But it seems to me far more important that the consideration should be paid to what the Progressive party proposes to do.

"I cannot too strongly emphasize the fact, upon which we Progressives insist, that the welfare of any one man in this fight wholly is immaterial, compared to the great fundamental issues involved in the triumph of the principles for which our cause stands.

"If I had been killed the fight would have gone on exactly the same. Governor Johnson, Senator Beveridge, Mr. Straus, Senator Bristow, Miss Jane Adams, Gifford Pinchot, Judge Ben Lindsey, Raymond Robyns, Mr. Prendergast and the hundreds of other men now on the stump, are preaching the doctrines that I have been preaching and stand for and represent just the same cause. They would have continued the fight in exactly the same way if I had been killed, and they are continuing in just the same way, now that I am for the moment, laid up.

"So far as opponents are concerned, whatever could, with truth and propriety, have been said against me and my cause before I was shot, can with equal truth and equal propriety be said against me now, and it should be so said, and the things which cannot be said now are merely things that ought not to have been said before. This is not a contest about any man; it is a contest concerning principles.

"If my broken rib heals fast enough to relieve breathing, I schall hope to be able to make one or two speeches yet in this campaign. In any event, if I am not able to make them the men I have mentioned above and the hundreds like them will be stating our case right to the end of the campaign, and I trust our opponents will be stating their case also. (Signed)

Raleigh Police Have Lively Encounter With Railroad Contractor

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 17.—J. C. Ross, now a construction contractor on the Raleigh, Charlotte & Southern between Colon and Verona, gave the Raleigh police a most severe trial of strength today when five policemen had the greatest difficulty in quieting him and getting him to the municipal building. Ross was formerly a star football player for A. & M. College and he never figured in a more strenuous and exciting football game than the fierce struggles he and the five policemen had today. Finally the patrol wagon came. Then they struggled to get him in, finally succeeded and the next minute he had broken out. Friends somewhat calmed him and he voluntarily re-entered the patrol wagon and was driven to the station. While the struggle with the police was at its height there were threats by friends and sympathizers with Ross to take him from the officers and several times the officers had to force the crowd back in addition to wrestling with Ross. The trouble started in the up-town Hicks drug store where the clerks say Ross was drinking and became angered at getting ammonia in his eyes. Finally an officer was called in to get Ross out and the struggle started that necessitated several reinforcements of police to control him.

A Penny and a Five-Dollar Gold Piece

Bear a distinct family resemblance in size, if not in relation of quality. Consequently if the gold piece is kept in close association with pennies it is likely to share the fate of being taken for one, or rather GIVEN for one, as happened not long ago with a friend of ours.

The lady paid the milkman, as she thought, fifteen cents, but in reality handed him fourteen pennies and the little gold piece, not discovering her error until the following day.

A GIRL'S CROWN

of pride is a handsome engagement ring. How she fondles it, turning it this way and that to catch its varying beauties. How proudly she shows it to her girl friends. If there is a girl you want to make happy, make her the happiest girl in town by choosing the engagement ring here.
